MESSAGE FROM ANDREE.
One Picked Up by Boys on the Coast of Iceland.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
CHRISTIANIA, June 6.—[By Atlantic Cable.] According to a dispatch from Mandal, the most southern town of Norway, two boys on May 14 found on the north coast of Iceland a small cork case containing a slip of paper dated July 11, 1897, signed "Andree, Strindberg and Fraenckel," and bearing the words "All well." Thrown out about long, 81, lat. unknown.

Prof. Andree's brother thinks the case was probably one of the letter buoys with which the Andree expedition was provided.

PRESSING ON.

Active Operations in the Philippines.

No Let-up in Hostilities on Account of the Rain.

Morong Campaign Undertaken as an Object Lesson.

NO REST FOR THE FILIPINOS.

Will Be Pursued Until They Surrender.

Futility of Resistance Must Be Demonstrated.

War and State Departments of the Same Opinion.

HARD WORK FOR OUR TROOPS.

Morong Peninsula Overrun and Cleared of the Enemy in the Face of Almost Insurmountable Difficulties—Overpowering Heat.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, June 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Active operations in the Philippines will be continued by the American troops, notwithstanding the rainy season. Plans for continuing an aggressive campaign were discussed at the White House last night by President McKinley, Secretary of State Hay, Assistant Secretary of War McKillop and Adj. Gen. Corbin.

"They relate to future operations, and will, of course, not be divulged," said Assistant Secretary McKillop. He was asked if the conference last night related to proposed operations, and he replied affirmatively. It is learned, however, that Gen. Otis several days ago agreed upon a plan of campaign.

This he cabled the War Department, and Secretary Alger submitted the dispatch to the President. In his cablegram Gen. Otis outlined the movement against the rebels on the peninsula of Morong. This was part of the general plan for the continuation of active operations, and when reports were received from Manila and the result of the movements of Gen. Lawton and Hall, a conference was held to discuss the situation with reference to further operations, plans for which have been submitted to Gen. Otis.

Secretary Hay's presence was due to the receipt of a telegram from President Schurman of the Philippine Commission, which concerned matters reported on by Gen. Otis. In both dispatches questions were asked and answers requested.

It is not believed that the rainy season will be severe enough to interfere with these plans for several weeks, and in the mean time it is Gen. Otis's purpose to pursue the Filipinos so relentlessly that they might be convinced of the advisability of surrendering without much delay.

At last Friday's Cabinet meeting, the impression prevailed that the rainy season would put an end to military operations. Since then, the military authorities have been gathering information on the subject of the rainy season, and learned to their surprise that last year there was very little rain during the so-called unhealthy period.

Dispatches were sent to both Gen. Otis and President Schurman answering the questions which they asked, and giving them the instructions desired. Schurman's message contained information about the political situation in the Philippines. He said that the best men among the Filipinos were acknowledged the authority of the United States, but the rag and bobtail element of Aguinaldo's army was insisting on further resistance. Many leaders wanted to cease hostilities, and Aguinaldo was apparently of the same opinion, but was afraid to surrender for fear of assassination.

A prominent official, who has seen the dispatches from Schurman and Otis, said the operations of Lawton's troops on the peninsula were undertaken principally to show the insurgents and the world that there would be no cessation of hostilities by the rainy season.

HARD CAMPAIGNING.

Operations of Hall and Wholley in the Peninsula.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] MANILA, June 5, 5 p.m.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] This afternoon Col. Truman's detachment, proceeding along the west side of the peninsula, took Angono and Binangonan. The rebels evacuated those towns Sunday night and fled to the northeast, slipping north of Morong before Hall's brigade arrived. Finding that there was no opposition, Col. Truman crossed the peninsula toward Morong for the purpose of joining Gen. Hall when he arrived from Antipolo.

Gen. Hall passed through Teresa, the only town which the inhabitants had not deserted. Many uniforms were found, indicating that the insurgents had suddenly changed themselves into friends for the time being.

Col. Wholley left Morong this afternoon, his troops returning to Pasig in caissons. He has been congratulated by the members of the Washington regiment, who are completely exhausted. On an average there are fifteen men in each company prostrated by heat.

Natives at Binangonan stated that Gen. Pio del Pilar's forces escaped east to the mountains in the direction of San Mateo. They are making for Angono. Before leaving Morong an outpost of the Washington regiment was attacked by the enemy and lost one killed and one wounded. That the object of the movement to entrap Gen. del Pilar's troops in the peninsula was unsuccessful was due to the inability of the Americans to swing around enough to the east sufficiently soon to get behind the enemy. Gen. Hall will withdraw to Pasig, across the northern part of the peninsula.

THE MORONG CAMPAIGN.

Difficulties Encountered by the Troops.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] NEW YORK, June 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Sun's Manila cable, dated June 5, 6 p.m., says: "Five days' rations are being distributed among the American troops who are advancing and maintaining a nearly continuous line across the Morong Peninsula south of this city."

"Hospital tugs returned tonight with 500 men, suffering from the effects of heat."

"Several escapes of insurgents through the lines are reported to have been made during the night. The unevenness of the country prevents the maintenance of a complete cordon of American troops."

"Mateo Valley wires have been cut continually by the enemy, and were finally abandoned by the Americans, communication being kept up by the Pasig River. The roughest country traversed by the American troops is in the vicinity of Antipolo. Transportation over it is impossible, and even the signal-service wagons had to be abandoned. Five Chinamen in the signal service employ deserted, and the remaining men were unable to carry the wires. Sergt. Wadak, with a wire-repairing party, was cut off behind the lines, by the enemy. Lieut. Gibbs, with a handful of signal men, rushed to Wadak's rescue, and succeeded in routing the enemy, who opposed his return."

"First Lieut. Hawthorne of Battery E, First Artillery, was unable to proceed, owing to the impassable condition of the country, and was compelled to burn his wagons, artillery and ammunition to prevent their falling into the hands of the enemy."

"The Superior Court was sworn in today, and the Inferior Court will take the oath tomorrow. Both courts will begin work immediately."

THE ENEMY CORNERED.

Lawton's Lines Extended Across the Morong Peninsula.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] NEW YORK, June 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Journal's Manila cable says:

"Gen. Lawton's column today advanced upon the Morong Peninsula, in Laguna de Bay, to sweep it clear of the large body of insurgents believed to have sought refuge there.

"Gen. Hall advanced from Antipolo to Morong, the objective point. His advance guard is spread out fan shape, to take in a wide range of the new territory."

"The First North Dakota and the Twelfth Infantry, under Col. Truman, also moved up from the shore of the lake from Taytay, and Col. Wholley, in command of the First Washington Regiment, is already on the peninsula, having landed above the town of Morong."

"As soon as he landed, Col. Wholley advanced on Morong under cover of heavy fire from the army gunboats and the artillery. The insurgents were shelled from their trenches, and when the Washington troops charged the enemy's lines they found the city deserted. The town is of great strategic importance, as it lies at the extreme northeastern part of the Morong Peninsula, and now that the lines of Hall and Truman have joined those of Wholley, the escape of every Filipino on the peninsula is cut off."

"The heat is terrific, and frequent showers cause a deadly humidity. Hospital boats returning this morning brought 200 soldiers who are suffering from heat prostration."

"The gunboat Cavadonga was struck by a shot from an insurgent cannon at a range of 500 yards. She signaled to the Napidan, which came up, and both boats shelled the enemy for fifteen minutes, silencing their guns.

"The country between Manila and the field of operations offers insurmountable obstacles to the transportation of supplies."

"Wagon communication from Manila has been abandoned. Provisions and ammunition are being sent via the Pasig River."

LAWTON'S CAMPAIGN.

The Plan is to Hem in and Capture the Insurgents.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.] NEW YORK, June 5.—A special from Washington says:

"In dispatching Gen. Lawton to capture Morong Gen. Otis is understood to have the purpose to destroy or drive back the force of insurgents which has been operating from that section against the Pasig River line."

"There is no expectation that Lawton's column will go far from the river, on which supplies will be carried to him. The authorities appreciate the extreme difficulties of a campaign during the rainy season, and all they expect is that the American forces will make short incursions into the enemy's country, breaking up any large organizations which may establish themselves in the vicinity of Manila, and especially near Laguna de Bay."

"It is apparent from the line which

VIVE LOUBET!

French President Now a Popular Idol.

Sunday's Scenes at Auteuil Gave Him a Boost.

Discordant Element Constitutes a Small Minority.

RIOTERS WILL BE PUNISHED.

Some of Them to Be Tried for Rebellion.

Others to Be Prosecuted on Less Serious Charges.

Count Christiani Likely to Get a Long Term.

THE GOVERNMENT'S FIRM STAND.

Severe Repressive Measures Taken and Prosecutions of Corrupt Judges and Military Officers Ordered—An Exciting Day.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PARIS, June 6.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The scenes at Auteuil on Sunday and in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday have only had the effect of increasing the popularity of President Loubet and of strengthening his hand on the government. The promptitude of M. Dupuy in carrying out his promise to take measures to insure justice as soon as the Court of Cassation had pronounced judgment, is regarded as proving that he, himself, can show a clean bill, and that though he was Premier at the time, Gen. Mercier kept him ignorant of the measures adopted against Dreyfus.

Countess Tornelli, wife of the Italian Ambassador, was sitting on M. Loubet's left during the attack, and he asked her whether she intended to stay. "Certainly, M. le President; am I not in the place of honor?"

Capt. Barlatier of the Marchand mission, attracted considerable attention to himself during the affair, and was publicly kissed by the Duchess d'Uzes.

Among those arrested whose names have not hitherto been cabled, are Vicomte Combe and Comte Moutiers Meriville and Comte Frossencourt.

EXAMINATIONS BEGUN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] PARIS, June 5, midnight.—M. le Mercier, the examining magistrate, tonight began the interrogation of those under arrest, for participating in yesterday's rioting. Ten, including M. de Panisse de Passy, have been provisionally released. About fifteen will be prosecuted on charges of rebellion, for which the maximum punishment is five years' imprisonment.

The charge against Comte Christiani is of assaulting a magistrate while in the exercise of his functions, an offense punishable by from two to five years' imprisonment.

DISORDERLY DEPUTIES.

Interpellation in the Chamber on the Auteuil Affair.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] PARIS, June 5.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Chamber of Deputies met at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The public galleries were crowded with fashionable people, including many ladies in pretty toilettes, who used their fans vigorously on account of the heat. The galleries of the Senators and diplomats were also full. There was a large and early attendance of Deputies, who eagerly discussed the situation of yesterday. Premier Dupuy and the Minister of Justice, M. Le Breton, sat on the ministerial bench.

M. La Logue, who moved the interpellation, rose at 2:25 o'clock p.m., and said the hour of action had struck. [Cheers from the Leftists and murmurs from the Rightists, and a babel of cries, in which MM. Casaghiari and Lascaes, anti-Semite, participated.]

M. La Logue asked the Premier if he had been warned beforehand of yesterday's demonstration. He then seized President Loubet, who, he said, undertook the Presidency in a time of stress. [Loud applause.]

THE SESSION INTERRUPTED.

M. Rious de la Gentyaye, Conservative, representing the second division of Dinac, Cotes du Nord shouted: "Loubet is not honest; he is a Panamist."

This statement called forth violent protests and shouts of "order," but M. de la Gentyaye persisted, in spite of the uproar, in declaring honest men were arrested yesterday. This was followed by shouts of "Down with Loubet!" and a scene of wild confusion ensued. The Leftists shouted at the top of their voices: "Censure with temporary exclusion!"

Premier Deschanel ordered M. de la

SHOT AT ASH FORK.

MAN BELIEVED TO BE AN EX-SOLDIER AND CONVICT.

Discovered on the Railroad Track With Trail of Blood Leading from the Box Car Near Which He Lay.

Whispered "Am Shot; Accident," but Was Too Near Death to Answer Any Questions Regarding His Identity.

If Fred Ross, He Had Been a First Tennessee Volunteer and Inmate of Stockton Jail.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ASH FORK (Ariz.), June 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A man about 28 years of age, supposed to be Fred Ross, an ex-soldier, was discovered on the railroad track west of the depot this morning, a trail of blood leading from the box car near by, to where he lay.

When found he was still breathing, but was too near death to answer questions regarding his identity beyond whispering: "Am shot; accident."

Whether inflicted by himself or at the hands of his partner, who has not been seen since, could not be learned. A large army revolver was found in the car where he had evidently passed the night. One chamber had been fired, the bullet from which had torn an ugly hole in the left groin, severing an artery.

The unfortunate man had fallen out of the car when shot, and crawled some distance. There being no powder marks on his clothing, it is evident the shot was not fired at very close range. Ross had been a member of the First Tennessee Volunteers, and also been an inmate of the Stockton jail. This is the third man killed here within the last three weeks.

A MURDEROUS ITALIAN.

Shoots E. G. Zeiro Seriously and Kills Himself With Poison.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN JOSE, June 5.—E. G. Zeiro, captain of the Italian hussars and employed by a fortune teller at the St. Charles Hotel in his banking and Steamship Agency office was painfully but not seriously wounded this afternoon by Paola Arata, a consumptive.

Zeiro was in his office when Arata entered, drew a pistol and fired. The bullet struck Zeiro in the left cheek near the ear, immediately after the shooting, Arata swallowed the contents of a bottle of poison and died an hour afterward. He left a note in his pocket, written in Italian, in which he stated that Zeiro had ruined him financially and physically and that having failed to collect $400 of the money due him, he had determined that both he and his debtor should die together.

Arata's friends say that about nine years ago the suicide gave $900 into Zeiro's keeping and that he has never been able to get it back. Arata worked at the Almaden grocery, until about two years ago, when he was driven to quit on account of his health. He was far gone in consumption when he shot Zeiro. A wife and five children in straitened circumstances are left behind.

The condition of Zeiro tonight is serious. The bullet penetrated the head three inches and lodged under the brain.

FIFTY YEARS MARRIED.

Ex-Gov. Budd's Parents Celebrate Their Golden Wedding.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

STOCKTON, June 5.—The golden wedding celebration of Judge Joseph E. Budd and wife, parents of ex-Gov. Budd and Regent John E. Budd of the State University, was the most elaborate society affair of many years in Stockton. Tonight the home grounds are beautifully illuminated by golden lights, and many electric lights are swung in the large trees of the residence grounds, making a splendid effect.

The golden wedding presents to the distinguished couple are magnificent. One of the most costly is a loving cup, presented by the members of the San Joaquin bar. The presentation speech for the members of the bar was made by Judge Jones, the associate of the bench here with Judge Budd. The value of the presents will reach into the thousands, and the designs are of all sorts and finish. Among the guests are several from the East, and many are here from distant parts of the Coast.

SONS OF VETERANS.

Election of Officers at the Annual Encampment.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—At the annual encampment of the Sons of Veterans, division of California, today, the officers elected were: Harry T. Moor of San Francisco, Commander; Dr. A. G. Bennett, San José, Senior Vice-Commander; Frank R. Handley, San Francisco, Junior Vice-Commander; W. E. Bartlett, San Francisco; W. L. Barnham, San José, and A. Weinert of Oakland, Division Council; Albert Eade of San Bernardino; John Wagner of Modesto, George A. Richardson of Pasadena and M. E. V. Bogart of Ventura, delegates to the commandery-in-chief that is to meet in September in the East.

Commander Moor has appointed W. J. Luckhart of San Francisco, Adjutant; Frank C. Kiple of Oakland, Inspector.

PUTMANN'S TRIAL BEGINS.

Charged With Murdering a Fellow Convict at Folsom Prison.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SACRAMENTO, June 5.—The trial of George Putmann, charged with murder, was commenced in Department Three of the Superior Court today. Judge J. W. Hughes presiding. Putmann is a convict at Folsom State prison, and stabbed to death a fellow-convict named John G. Showers in the prison last month.

Putmann's attorneys filed an affidavit for an order for the issuance of a subpoena for thirteen convicts in the Folsom prison, who testify regarding alleged queer actions on the part of the defendant as desired by his attorneys. They also filed an affidavit declaring that it was desired to take the affidavit of Ab Majors, who is to be executed in Utah on the 15th of this month, and they asked for a reasonable continuance of the case. In the course of the argument upon these points, it developed that Putmann is not a convict, but a man who has suppressed his real name for family reasons. The motions for continuance and for an order to subpoena convicts were taken under advisement. LATER—Judge Hughes denied the motion for a continuance, and ordered that subpoenas be served on six of the convicts, and that depositions of the remainder be taken. The impaneling of a jury was then proceeded with.

THE PELICAN'S CREW.

Revenue Cutter Grant Detailed to Search for It.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

TACOMA June 5.—At the request of Senator Foster and the Chamber of Commerce Secretary Gage has detailed the revenue cutter Grant to search among the Aleutian Islands from the island of Attu eastward for the crew of the missing steamship Pelican, which left here twenty months ago with a cargo of railroad ties for China. The photograph of the bottle message from Chief Officer Peterson, saying the boat was abandoned in a sinking condition near Attu Island, having authenticated, it is believed the crew may still be alive on one of the islands.

Senator Foster has asked the Treasury Department to interest, if possible, the British government, in instituting a joint search with the United States government. Capt. Gove of the Pelican is an Englishman, as are several members of the crew. Patterson, the first officer, is an American. The Grant will follow, and carry to the revenue cutters that have already sailed orders to join in the search for the missing crew.

PELICAN'S SAD FATE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—The Merchants Exchange has received from the Northern Pacific Steamship Company a genuine signature of M. S. Patterson, first officer of the steamship Pelican, which, according to a message picked up on the shores of Portage Bay, was lost while en route from Puget Sound to China.

Some doubt was expressed as to the genuineness of the signature, and some were expressed that some ruthless joker was playing a hoax, but a careful comparison of the signatures dispels the idea, and shipping men are convinced that the Pelican foundered.

SEVEN WHEAT STATIONS.

Forecast Official Wilson Has Established Them.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—Local Forecast Official Wilson has returned from the San Joaquin Valley, where he established seven wheat stations along the line of the Valley road.

Mr. Wilson intended to equip stations at Berkeley, Dewey and Angleton, but the shelters had not been prepared, so he left the work to competent men, and the three places will be in operation in a few days. Hereafter daily reports will be received regarding the weather conditions in the various wheat sections.

COL. RAY AND COMMAND.

En Route to Alaska to Establish Law and Order.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—Col. S. H. Ray has arrived here on his way to take command of the Department of Northern Alaska, which comprises all the territory north of the 42d deg. latitude. He expects to leave about June 20 with his command, which will consist of two companies of infantry, probably on the Corona. It is the intention of the government to establish three posts along the Yukon which will be permanently garrisoned.

The object of the government is to establish law and order in the country, and to encourage its permanent occupation by settlers. Col. Ray says that the lower Yukon valleys are capable of growing magnificent crops, and he believes that many articles of food now imported by the miners can be produced along the banks of the river.

WAR REVENUE AND EXPANSION.

Sensor Scott of West Virginia Expresses His Views.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—Nathan B. Scott, United States Senator from West Virginia, and until recently United States Commissioner of Internal Revenue, is in this city on a brief visit. He had much to do with framing the War Tax Bill, which, he says, has increased the annual revenues of the government about $100,000,000. He thinks that with a few modifications the measure will continue in force for some time to come. In his judgment, the Philippines should be subdued and given a form of government based on home rule, prior to before expansion is made a political issue.

STOLEN BY STOWAWAYS.

New Theory in Regard to Missing Australian Treasure.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—A new theory regarding the loss of the box containing $25,000 which was stolen from the steamer Alameda, is that it was taken by three stowaways, two of whom boarded the vessel at Sydney and the third at Apia. They were allowed the privileges of regular employees, and all left the steamer at Honolulu. The police here, however, have not abandoned the idea that the coin may have reached this city, and still continue their search for it.

STILL UNSOLVED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—The mystery surrounding the stealing of $25,000 from the specie tank of the steamer Alameda on her latest trip from Sydney to this port is still unsolved. The steamship company has made good the loss of the money to the bank.

THE SACHEM AT SHANGHAI.

Ship's Master Was Buried at Sea and She Was Taken by Lightning.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.]

TACOMA (Wash.), June 5.—The American ship Sachem, which sailed from Philadelphia last fall laden with kerosene oil, has arrived at Shanghai, after an eventful voyage. Before she reached Hongkong her master died and was buried at sea. In Formosa Channel she was struck by lightning. Her foremast was reduced to splinters, and over half of the crew were knocked insensible. The mate, who was one of the victims, remained unconscious for six hours.

MYERS'S HORRIBLE DEATH.

Pabst Company's Representative Accidentally Killed at Hongkong.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—Joe Myers, the traveling representative in Asia of the Pabst Brewing Company, met a horrible death in the harbor of Hongkong, May 1. While in the act of visiting some naval officers aboard the United States cruiser Charleston, he was crushed and instantly killed by a boat which fell from the warship. News of the shocking accident was brought in a private letter from Hongkong.

PILGRIMS TO CAPE NOME.

People Who Believe in the Reported Wealth There.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—The steamer Queen sailed for Alaska today. She carries a large number of passengers, some of whom are destined for the Cape Nome district, which some people credit with being even richer than the Klondike. The Cape Nome aggregation on the Queen professes to believe in the wonderful richness of the region, and two in particular rely on the word of friends in the district to pay them for taking the arduous journey.

NAVIGATION TO BE RESUMED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SEATTLE (Wash.), June 5.—Navigation to St. Michael, Alaska, and adjacent points will be fully resumed in a few days. The reported discovery of rich placers at Cape Nome is attracting considerable attention, and many bookings of fares and freight are being made for that point.

Grigsby Taken Into Custody.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—Ex-Sergeant Willis O. Grigsby of the United States army, who was wanted by two counties of this State for robbery, and by local Federal officers, was taken into custody today at Port Logan, Alta, where he was residing. He was taken under the name of York. His arrest was brought about through a letter written to Miss Nevada Wood, his third wife of this city, which he had over to Postal Inspector Erwin.

Shot Himself in the Head.

SANTA CRUZ, June 5.—James Jared, who was until recently a salaried keeper in Watsonville, shot himself in the head this morning with suicidal intent. The shot was fired in a house of ill-fame, where he had accreted himself in the room of a woman with whom he was in love. The woman objected to Jared's presence, and informed the police, and when the officers tried to break in Jared shot himself twice. He died this afternoon. He was 25 years of age.

I.O.O.F. Encampment.

TACOMA, June 5.—The Grand Encampment of Odd Fellows met here today with a large attendance. The question of a permanent meeting place, the delegates say, will probably be settled by alternating the Grand Lodge meeting between Tacoma and Seattle. Reports of officers showed the encampment branch had gained slowly, but steadily during the past year, and the finances of the encampments were in excellent condition.

Breach of Promise Suit.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—It was learned today that the breach of promise suit for $100,000, brought by Mrs. E. H. Humphreys of Chicago against C. Elwood Brown, was brought to the attention of this city, which was to have been heard in the United States Circuit Court tomorrow. The suit was drawn by the plaintiff. The terms of the settlement have not been made public.

Elderly Man Robbed.

SACRAMENTO, June 5.—About 10 o'clock tonight two men robbed an elderly man named C. Miller on the river banks south of the city. Miller received $40 today and took in the river front saloon, where toughs congregate. It is not yet known what the motive of the robbery was. The police are searching for him, but it is feared the robbers may have thrown him into the river.

Fresno Man's Suicide.

FRESNO, June 5.—Alfred Charles Smith died at 5 o'clock this morning from a bullet wound in his head inflicted Sunday noon with suicidal intent. Smith was between 20 and 30 years of age, and owned a twenty-acre vineyard and orchard in Washington County. He had been acting in a strange manner for several days. His mother and sister live in New Zealand.

Thieves Rob Poor Boxes.

SACRAMENTO, June 5.—Last night thieves entered the Catholic here and robbed the poor boxes. These were of iron and riveted to the walls but were pried off and broken. They had been emptied only a few days before, and contained only a small sum. The burglars also made an attempt to break open the Tabernacle, but were unsuccessful.

Stockton's City Officers.

STOCKTON, June 5.—The new city officers went into office tonight. Mayor Harrison reappointed E. B. Thompson City Attorney, and G. W. Atwell, Prosecuting Attorney. A. R. Bogue was appointed Deputy City Superintendent, and O. B. Reibenstein, Sever Inspector. Carl Beck was reappointed deputy collector.

Ex-Sheriff O'Neill's Appointment.

SACRAMENTO, June 5.—Ex-Sheriff Thomas O'Neill of this city has been selected to fill the position of United States Census Marshal of the Second Congressional District. The position comes to Mr. O'Neill through the efforts of Marion De Vries, Congressman for this district. O'Neill is the chairman of the Democratic County Central Committee.

Alien Ownership of Claims.

VICTORIA (B. C.), June 5.—The protest of the United States government against the law prohibiting aliens from owning placer claims in British Columbia has been communicated to the local government by the Dominion authorities. The local government will forward its reply to Ottawa tomorrow.

Othello Gives His Bonds.

FRESNO, June 5.—Othello Scribner of this city, who has been appointed receiver of the Land Office at Visalia to succeed the late Capt. Charles Norcross, has been forwarded to the authorities at Washington for approval. Mr. Scribner expects to take his office about the 20th inst.

Nevada's Governorship.

CARSON (Nev.), June 5.—The contest over the Governorship election came before the Supreme Court today. The ballots cast in Nye county were submitted in evidence under protest, and the objections made will be considered tomorrow.

Skagway Bank Closes.

SKAGWAY (Alaska), June 5.—(Wired from Seattle, Wash., June 5.)—The First Bank of Skagway has closed its doors today. The bank's liabilities are estimated at $16,000; assets, $13,000.

Hunter's Point Dry Dock.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—The dry dock at Hunter's Point is to be lengthened to 410 feet. This will enable it to accommodate the largest merchant vessels. It will take nearly a year to complete the work.

The Coke Sails.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—The five-ton schooner Coke sailed today for Manila. Capt. Freilich, the sole occupant of the little vessel, expects to reach the Philippines in sixty days.

Italian Crushed by a Log.

SANTA CRUZ, June 5.—Charles Renara, a native of Italy, aged 19 years, was so badly crushed today by a log falling over him that he died just as the train which brought him here reached the depot.

SCHULTZ'S TROUBLES.

HIS WIFE SUES HIM FOR DIVORCE AND ALIMONY, TOO.

Says He Has but Sixteen Dollars to His Name, and Denies Mrs. Schultz's Allegations Concerning a Pretty Casino Chorus Girl.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, June 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Annie L. Schultz is suing her husband, E. D. Schultz, for an absolute divorce. In the Supreme Court today Justice Beach reserved decision, upon the application of the wife for alimony and counsel fees pending a trial of the suit."

Schultz's alleged fondness for Leonore, better known as "Patsy" Harris, a chorus girl of the Casino Company, whose home is in Los Angeles, forms the basis of the action at law to dissolve the matrimonial bonds. In her complaint Mrs. Schultz asserts that she was married to Schultz nine years ago, and that he is a theatrical manager with a large income. She says that he manages one of Klaw & Erlanger's road companies.

While rummaging through her husband's effects recently, Mrs. Schultz claims that she found several letters from "Patsy" to Mr. Schultz, in which "Patsy" declares undying love, and informs him that a certain dress she has ordered will only cost him $155. She also claims she ran across a bill from a Sixth-avenue dry-goods store for $135, which her husband is called upon to settle. The articles named in the bill are alleged to have been bought by the fair "Patsy." They include different pieces of feminine wearing apparel.

In his argument before Justice Beach today, William S. Bennett of Bennett & Silverman, counsel for Mrs. Schultz, told the court that during the past year Mr. Schultz had contributed $1005 to Miss Harris. Among other things was $34 for photographs of "Patsy."

TO THE COUNTY JAIL.

Accused Kidnapers of Marion Clark Waive Examination.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, June 5.—Mr. and Mrs. Barrow, accused of kidnaping little Marion Clark, waived examination before Justice of the Peace Herbert, at Garrettsville, Rockland county, today, and were committed to the County Jail to await the action of the grand jury which meets in October. All efforts of the New York county authorities to obtain possession of the prisoners have failed thus far, and unless Governor Roosevelt intervenes, the New York officials cannot get the prisoners, until after they have been tried in Rockland county.

GRAND JURY INDICTMENT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, June 5.—The grand jury has returned indictments in the kidnaping case. Asst. Dist. Atty. McIntyre made public those against the Barrows or Wilsons and Carrie Jones this afternoon. The first is against George W. Barrow, alias Mark Beauregard, alias James Wilson, also known as Addie Beauregard and Jennifer Jones, and the second against the same Jones, known as Belle Anderson. The indictments are in common law courts and charge abduction, kidnapping and conspiracy.

FIGHTING IRISHMEN.

Infantry Charged the Crowds at Nationalist Demonstration.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

BELFAST, June 5.—(By Atlantic Cable.) There were exciting scenes here this afternoon in consequence of the Nationalist demonstration, headed by William O'Brien, and accompanied by a large number of the display of banners. The protesters threatened trouble, with the result that large bodies of police and military were stationed near where the several conflicts took place, and infantry charged the crowd with fixed bayonets. Several persons were injured.

MANY ARRESTS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BELFAST, June 6.—The rioting was resumed today after the return of the procession, and troops were obliged to charge several times. The rioting was resumed, and a force of policemen again attacked, but they were obliged to retire before a heavy shower of stones. A public house was looted and set on fire. The rioting was much disturbed until a late hour this evening.

BLAND'S CONDITION.

Grave Fears Entertained for the Congressman's Recovery.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

LEBANON (Mo.), June 5.—Congressman Bland's condition tonight is very grave, and fears are entertained for his recovery. While he has rallied somewhat there is great anxiety on the part of his immediate friends and attending physician. All the members of the family are at the Congressman's bedside, and absent ones having been summoned by telegraph.

The patient is suffering from nervous prostration, the result of a stroke of the brain, which occurred while he was in Washington and he has been confined to his room for two months. The extreme physical weakness is at present the most alarming feature of the case, which at this time of life, renders the issue extremely doubtful, and his inability to sleep without the use of opiates is another element of danger.

THE DE BARAS FOUND GUILTY.

Jury Convicts Them of Using Mails to Defraud—Heavy Penalty.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, June 5.—Baron Edgar de Bara and his wife, Fannie, were today found guilty in the United States District Court of having used the United States mails to defraud residents of Great Britain. The jury returned a verdict of "guilty" in both cases after a deliberation of three hours.

In their verdict they found the defendants guilty according to the most alarming feature of the case, which at this time of life, renders the issue extremely doubtful, and his inability to sleep without the use of opiates is another element of danger.

Romana Is Peru's President.

LIMA (Peru), via Galveston, June 5.—The election of Señor Eduardo Romana as President and of Señora Elzamar and Bressan, as first and second Vice-Presidents, respectively, has been secured by a trifling number of votes over the minimum required by law.

Many men understand women. When a woman is weak, sickly, nervous, fretful, irritable and despondent, the average husband imagines that she is simply out of temper. An average husband will probably simply go out and leave her alone for awhile, "to have it out with herself." A bad husband is liable to go off and get drunk. The fact is that the poor wife is suffering from illness of a description that breaks a woman down sooner than anything else. Her back is weak and aches. Her "sides" pinch. She has pains and a dragging sensation in the abdomen. Her appetite is touchy and she suffers from nausea. She has sick headaches, giddiness, dizziness, cold chills, flushings of heat, shortness of breath, palpitation, disturbed sleep, frightful dreams, irregularities and nervous and trembling sensations. Her pain-racked nerves are a continual torture.

A woman in this condition is suffering from weakness and disease of the delicate and important organs concerned in wifehood and motherhood. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes these organs strong and well. It also cures inflammation, heals ulceration and soothes pain. It has transformed thousands of sickly, nervous, petulant, childless and unhappy women into happy, healthy, helpful, amiable wives and mothers. It banishes the discomforts of the period of prospective maternity and makes baby's advent easy and almost painless. Good medicine dealers sell it and an honest druggist does not try to urge upon you an inferior substitute for a little extra price.

If you want a 100-page home doctor-book, send 21 one-cent stamps, to cover mailing only, for a paper-covered copy of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and a French cloth binding at 25 cents. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

ALL ARE FOR HENDERSON

New York Delegation Will Drop Sherman and Whooop It Up for the Iowa Man, Who Declares Himself to Be a Staunch Supporter of the President.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, June 5.—Congressman Sherman of Iowa came to this city today to prepare for the meeting of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company from New York State, which will be held at the Fifth-avenue Hotel at noon tomorrow. Congressman George W. Ray of Norwich called at the Republican State headquarters from acute indigestion, and placed his views on the Speakership contest.

"It's all up with New York," he said to a reporter. "Henderson has enough votes to elect him already, and in a few days he will have nearly every State in the Union back of him. Under the circumstances, all the New York delegation can do is to fall in line tomorrow and whoop it up for Henderson. If we adopt any other course we will be dragged in the mud behind the Henderson chariot. Moreover, to put forward a New York candidate while the rest of the country is with Henderson, would not improve the chances of the New York Congressmen to get well placed on the committee."

PENNSYLVANIA IN LINE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, June 5.—Congressman David B. Henderson received further evidence of support tonight in a message from Gen. Henry H. Bingham of Pennsylvania, who notified him that eleven Congressmen of that State were with him.

INDIANA SOLID FOR HIM.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.), June 5.—Seven of Indiana's nine Congressmen held a meeting and decided to support Col. Henderson for the Speakership. Congressman Steele of Ellettsburg, the absentee, telegraphed their approval, and a telegram was sent to Col. Henderson announcing that the delegation would stand by him.

NOT A COPPERHEAD.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

MILWAUKEE, June 5.—The Journal today publishes an interview with Gen. Henderson of Iowa, in which he expressed gratitude for the efforts of the Wisconsin Congressmen in his behalf, and said that he was not a copperhead, in regard to the reports that he is an anti-imperialist. Gen. Henderson said this is not the time for individuals to express politics.

"See where we are," said Gen. Henderson, "and then see whether it is reasonable for us to attempt to anticipate the conditions which time brings. We are now in a period of transition and readjustment, and Congress will not meet until next December, unless, which is not likely, there should be an extra session—and we should not attempt to forestall future action, which the light of developments may show to be advisable."

"What we all should do at this time is to steadfastly support President McKinley. As the Chief Executive he is in possession of hourly-acquired information as to the ever-changing conditions. This he in time will give over to us. I have no doubt, and in the near future, believe the duty of us all is to give him our firm loyal support. This is all I care to say—in fact, I have said more than I intended saying."

BEFORE THE BATTLE.

PRELIMINARIES OF THE BIG FIGHT BEING SETTLED.

Conference Between Referee Siler and the Two Principals to Be Held Today at Coney Island.

Both Men Training Hard and Getting into Proper Fighting Trim. Fitzsimmons' Falls Off His Pony.

Jeffries' Stock Going Up—Results of the Races and Baseball Games. The Chess Score.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, June 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] As usual in important fights, the number of details will have to be arranged before Fitzsimmons and Jeffries come together on Friday night at Coney Island Sporting Club. A suitable official time-keeper for the club will have to be chosen, and as is generally the case, the managers of the rival pugilists have different views regarding the matter. It will be brought up again in a day or two for final settlement.

Al Smith, a well-known sporting man, will hold the watch for Jeffries. Brady decided upon this wise move, for in the bout between Sharkey and McCoys, the same question came up at the last moment, and was so perplexing that it seemed as if the mill would have to be postponed.

The management announced that the men will be in the ring ready to shake hands by 9:30 o'clock. The principals have been instructed to be in the clubhouse by 9 o'clock. It has also been directed that weighing in shall take place before entering the ring, so that the public will know just how much each man weighs. Jeffries has consented to this arrangement and Fitzsimmons has been requested to do the same. In case the big fight is too short, another bout will be put on later.

The conference between Siler and the two pugilists will not involve any difficulty in effecting the mutual agreement, the articles calling for a fight under Marquis of Queensberry rules, with the exception that there shall be no hitting in the breakaways or in clinches, and that the men must break clean at order of referee. Neither man will be allowed to wear bandages of any description on his hands. It is also stipulated that the gloves must be submitted to the referee for his approval twenty-four hours before the contest. Each pugilist receives the privilege of furnishing his own gloves. Jeffries has an unusually large fist and is always very careful in selecting his mittens.

Jeffries will leave his quarters at Asbury Park for the scene of the mill on Thursday morning. He will go at once to Martin Dowling's Hotel on the boulevard at Coney Island, and remain there until the night of the fight. Fitzsimmons will stay at Bath Beach until about 8 o'clock Friday night, when he will be driven to the clubhouse. Both pugilists are still at work.

There was no marked change in betting figures today. The ruling price was 2 to 1.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, June 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Robert Fitzsimmons, the pugilist, was thrown from his horse this afternoon, while riding in Bath Beach, where he is training for his fight with Jeffries next Friday night. He had just mounted his favorite pony to take a short ride, when the animal kicked up his heels and tossed him off. He landed on his head and was dazed and slightly hurt. By the time he got to his feet the pony was two blocks away. Fitz, although still somewhat dazed, started on a run after the pony. It was caught about half a mile away. The champion said he was not hurt badly, but the accident is causing much talk tonight in sporting circles, and may affect the betting.

TRAINING HARD.

Fitzsimmons and Jeffries Keep Up Their Exercise.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] NEW YORK, June 5.—As the completion of his training approaches, the heavy-weight champion pugilist increases his work. This was not particularly noticeable in the case of the liveliest days that the lanky boxer has put in since he began his preparation for his fight with Jim Jeffries for the World's championship which will take place before the Coney Island Club next Friday evening. Bob was out of doors shortly after sunrise this morning, and with his pet pony took a dip in the waters of Bath Beach, close to his home and training quarters.

At 9:30 o'clock he ate a hearty breakfast, after which he punched the bag for an hour, taking brief periods of rest. He was remarkably supple, and those who watched him commented favorably on his condition. He took a short walk before luncheon, and after he had partaken of his midday meal, he essayed to ride the pony. As he sat astride of the animal, the lanky boxer's toes tipped the ground. The pugilist had his trousers rolled up to his bottom. The pony struck one of his iron shoes on the hind hoofs in the lap iron of Fitzsimmons' right ankle, and Fitz was rolled over in the dust. Fitzsimmons was unhurt.

About 3 o'clock the champion donned his fighting trunks and boxed twelve fast rounds with Yank Koney, Dan Hickey, and Jack Everhardt. The last named made his first appearance as an opponent to the big fellow today, as in his hitherto duties of training. Koney and Hickey have been the only ones to take chances with the champion. Hickey took first place and a lively round ensued. Then came Everhardt, full of vim and cleverness. Koney took a turn, and as he is over 210 pounds in weight, he came in for a large share of the damage, as Bob failed to land him any love taps.

These three box turns, so that Fitzsimmons boxed first three rounds with each, with a rest of one minute between the rounds. Hickey landed a hard swing on Bob's eye in the tenth, but had to retire for repairs a moment later, when Fitzsimmons sent a left smash into his right eye, closing it. Fitzsimmons took a lot of knocks and seemed to like them, as he encouraged his opponents to hit him as hard as possible. All three were badly wounded, but Fitzsimmons showed no signs of wavering. After being well rubbed down, the champion donned blue sweater and trousers. He then ate a hearty dinner, and as soon as he had satisfied his appetite, took a twelve-mile run, accompanied by two of his trainers. When the party returned to the house again, Bob went to bed and was sound asleep after 9 o'clock. He said before retiring that he would pursue the same course of training until next Thursday evening. Jim Jeffries, who is training at Asbury Park for his fight with Fitzsimmons on Friday, put in a good day's work, and his movements were carefully watched by a number of New York sporting men, who went down to the training quarters. They got a great deal of information of Jeffries' condition and cleverness, and returned tonight to New York favorably impressed.

Mike Donovan said Jeffries was the cleverest and fastest man he had ever seen of his size. Bill Lavigne, who trained Corbett last summer, expressed a similar opinion, and William Brady claimed that Jeffries' work was a revelation to him. In his sparring with Daly, the latter received a flat knock-out.

Jeffries appears to be trained down to the proper weight according to his proportions. He seems to have developed a strong sense of distance and time. Several members of the New York Athletic Club, who had previously taken Fitzsimmons' measurement after comparing the figures with those shown by Jeffries, intimated that Jeffries would put up a very strong argument with Fitzsimmons, with the chances in his favor.

BOTH MEN CONFIDENT. [ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] NEW YORK, June 5.—Although little attention has been paid to the training of the pugilists compared with that shown on the work of the contestants in previous championship battles, both have put in weeks of hard, conscientious training, and are in good shape.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

LONDON, June 5.—At the evening session Lasker beat Mason, Marocsy beat Cohn, while Pillsbury and Schlechter and Showalter and Janowski drew their respective games. The American player Marshall, beat the Russian, Tabuntschikov, in the minor tournament this evening.

CHALLENGE ACCEPTED.

Harvard and Yale Athletes Will Go to England to Battle.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

OXFORD (Eng.), June 5.—A cablegram has been received from Harvard and Yale, accepting the challenge of Oxford and Cambridge for an athletic contest, provided certain conditions are adjusted, and suggesting either July 12, 13 or 14 as suitable dates.

Not one of these dates will do, as the contest must take place on a Saturday, in order to give the students a crowd, and July 15 is the date for two great social functions, the Eton-Harrow cricket match, and the Eclipse stowakes at Sandown Park. It is understood that Oxford and Cambridge will make a counter proposal for July 22, the Saturday preceding the break-up of the London season, and the exodus to the Goodwood races.

Automobile Challenge.

NEW YORK, June 5.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Paris says that the Paris press comment unfavorably on Mr. Winton's delay in replying to M. Charron's acceptance of his challenge. The figure says M. Charron, having deposited his $20,000, it is not necessary for Mr. Winton to back out.

Cricket Match at Lords.

LONDON, June 5.—At the close of play today in the match between the Marylebone Cricket Club and the Australian eleven at Lords, the former had scored 245 runs and the Australians had 110 runs to their credit for one wicket down.

Joe Corbett to Be Married.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—Joe Corbett, the baseball player and brother of the ex-pugilist, is to be married on Wednesday evening next to Miss Elizabeth Mahoney, daughter of a well-known contractor.

Tennis Champion of Hawaii.

BERKELEY, June 5.—News has been received here that Charles Johnston, now of Honolulu, has won the tennis championship of Hawaii.

Bank Treasurer Arrested.

DOVER (N. H.), June 5.—The Coche Savings Bank of this city was enjoined today from paying out or receiving money, and a warrant was issued for the arrest of Harry Hough, the treasurer, who is charged with a shortage of $3500. The Coche National Bank also closed its doors today, and National Bank Examiner Carroll is expected to take charge of the National Bank at once. Hough, besides being treasurer of the savings institution, was paying teller of the National Bank.

The President Will Attend.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—The United Daughters of the Confederacy will hold their annual reunion at Glen Echo, near this city, on Wednesday and Thursday of this week. President McKinley today accepted an invitation to be present on the last day, and also granted the use of the U. S. Army Band for the reunion. The President will be accompanied by Gens. Corbin and Wheeler.

MICROBES IN HIS MILK.

GOV. TANNER WILL FORESWEAR THE LACTEAL FLUID.

Cows Which Supplied the Governor's Household With Milk Found to Be Rotten With Disease, Startling Revelations.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] CHICAGO, June 5.—Gov. Tanner, at the stock yards today, witnessed the slaughtering of twenty-seven cows in a test conducted by the State Board of Live Stock Commissioners. Twenty-five were found to be in an advanced stage of consumption, and the other two had well-developed cases. This herd came from a dairy farm in Sangamon county, that supplies the Governor's household with milk, and he expressed himself very forcibly on the subject.

"That test demonstrates," he said, "the danger that constantly confronts the public, and proves that the Live Stock Commissioners should be invested with power to examine every herd in the State, whether private or not. Dr. Lovejoy tells me that this herd is the worst that has been met yet. Why, they were simply rotten with disease, which must surely spread the germs of tuberculosis."

EXPLORERS' MEDALS.

Ambassador Choate Assists at a Scientific Function.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] LONDON, June 5.—[By Atlantic Cable.] At the anniversary meeting of the Royal Geographical Society this afternoon, the United States Ambassador, Joseph H. Choate, presented the medal awarded to Sir John Murray, a naturalist and chronicler of the Challenger expedition, by the American Geographical Society. The ambassador expressed his full sympathy with the object of the American society in awarding the medal. The American society, he added, had for many years emulated the Royal Society.

The Ambassador then dwelt upon the work of Sir John Murray and said that science and literature form today links which perpetuate the friendship now existing between the two countries. The founders' medal was presented to Capt. George H. Dyer, and Sir John Murray, president of the Royal Geographical Society, who was in the chair, eulogized the work of the French-African explorers.

CHOATE AT A BANQUET.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] LONDON, June 5.—At the banquet of the Royal Geographical Society this evening, 300 persons were present, the company including Joseph H. Choate, the United States Ambassador, who received an ovation. Mr. Choate responded to the toast, "Our guests." He referred to the ties uniting England and America, but said that Americans could never forget the debt of gratitude they owed to France.

CHAIN OF DISASTER.

Boy Drowned, Girl Hurt, Three Adults Brought to Death's Door.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.] CHICAGO, June 5.—A special from Arthur, Ill., says one boy drowned, a little girl fatally injured by the hoofs of horses, two women and a man brought to death's door by the shocks of the accidents, all incidents accompanying the funeral of a man who met sudden death, made Sunday a remarkable one in this city.

The strange chain of disaster began when the local G.A.R. post buried T. P. Wells, who was asphyxiated by gas at a hotel in Chicago last Wednesday night. While the ceremony was in progress at the cemetery, news reached George Baker that his three-year-old son had been drowned while swimming. The shock prostrated Mr. Baker. When the news was broken to his wife, she went frantic and became unconscious. Both are in a precarious condition.

While the funeral procession was returning from the cemetery, one of the carriages ran over Mrs. William Sullivan, a little two-year-old, two-year-old, mangled her in a horrible condition. A young lady who witnessed the accident fainted and lay four hours unconscious.

Proposed Anti-Trust Convention.

AUSTIN (Tex.), June 5.—Gov. Sayres today telegraphed the Governors and Attorney-Generals of the Southern States a call for an anti-trust convention to meet in St. Louis September 29 for the purpose of securing concerted action against trusts.

Cured. Cured. Cured.

From All Parts of California Come Grateful Letters Telling of Cures by Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt.

IT IS NATURE'S OWN REMEDY.

IT IS THE GRANDEST ELECTRICAL INVENTION OF MODERN TIMES FOR THE good of humanity. It is far superior to any other contrivance for the cure of disease. It is quick, safe and certain in its health-giving action, and cures after drugs have been used in vain. It gives new vitality to the weakened parts with animal magnetism, expands and invigorates the vital forces and removes the effects of early mistakes, exposure and excess. It cures all nervous troubles, kidney and stomach complaints, rheumatism, lame back, etc., after medicine fails.

LATE CURES.

Cured Rheumatism and Weakness.

DR. M. A. McLAUGHLIN—Dear Sir: Having received so much benefit from your Belt I wish to hand you a statement for the purpose of helping others suffering as I was, from Rheumatism and Weakness. I am over 70 years of age and have been troubled with these complaints over thirty years. I have been cured by your Belt after two months' use of it, and had tried almost everything in existence before I got relief. I can truthfully say that I have received a permanent cure. My back is strong, my health better and have improved wonderfully in every way. I consider when you have advised several parties up here to try your belt, and they have done so with success. Yours very truly, CAPT. J. W. JOHNSON, Redlands, Cal.

General Weakness Cured.

DR. M. A. McLAUGHLIN: Since commencing the use of your Belt I have noticed a gradual improvement and can today say that I am completely cured and feel better and stronger than I have been for years. In fact, I feel like a new person, and, judging from my experience with your Belt, believe it will do all you claim. I have advised several parties up here to try your belt, and they have done so with success. Yours very truly, ALFRED S. HAMLIN.

Vericocle and Weakness Cured.

DR. M. A. McLAUGHLIN: I have been a sufferer for ten years with Vericocle and weakness. After wearing your Belt for about ten weeks I am pleased to say that the weakness has entirely disappeared and that the Vericocle veins have been reduced to their natural size. I will always recommend your belt, and words cannot express my gratefulness to you for the benefit I have received. Wishing you all the success that I possibly can, I remain, yours very truly, LOUIS FOSCALINA.

Call and See This Belt or Send for Books.

You can learn all about it in ten minutes. It is simple, but grand. You can test it and feel its power, and when you understand it you will know that at last you have found the cure for your ailment. If you cannot call, send at once for my free book "Three Classes of Men," or "Maiden, Wife and Mother." Both are full of candor, full of nature's truths, and they will help you. Call or write today.

REWARD OF MERIT.

LARGE SUM VOTED TO GEN. LORD KITCHENER.

The Sidel's Services in Crushing the Mahdists Given Substantial Recognition by the Commons.

Desecration of the Remains of the Mahdi Made the Subject of an Attack on the Hero of the Sudan.

Mr. Balfour Admits the Bones of the Prophet Might Have Been More Gently Handled.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] LONDON, June 5.—Mr. Balfour, in introducing a vote of £20,000 for Lord Kitchener in the House of Commons, today, says the fact that the power of Mahdism was crushed was due to the genius of the man they desired to honor and reward. He expressed the hope that those who objected to the policy of the Sudan advance would not think that a reason for resisting the vote, as such a course would be introducing politics into military matters. He then dwelt with admiration on the way the Sirdar had surmounted difficulties and organized victories by his "unswerving and almost superhuman industry, which deserved a signal mark of gratitude and honor," and he, Mr. Balfour, believed that in proposing the vote of £20,000, he was only carrying out the wishes of the House and of the country.

Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the opposition leader, cordially supporting the motion, while expressing regret at the treatment of the Mahdi's body, which he regarded as an error of taste and judgment.

Mr. Balfour did not refer to the incident of the Mahdi's head, excepting indirectly, when he said he conceived that there was only one question before the house, namely, military merit. In connection with his reference to military merit, Mr. Balfour declared that he was disposed to withhold from the public in general, merited general disapproval.

Mr. Balfour added that the country, whose army concerned itself with politics was on the verge of military despotism.

John Morley, former Liberal chief secretary for Ireland, opposed the vote on the ground of the treatment of the Mahdi's men, to which Mr. Balfour replied that he did not believe the charges of vengeance had influenced Gen. Kitchener in the smallest degree, pointing out that he had treated the Mahdi's family with the utmost consideration. The rest of the body, he also said, had been public, as publicity was an essential part of the policy dictating the act. It was the first duty of the man responsible for the safety of the men and officers left in charge of Omdurman to root out the fanatical superstition which had been the strength of Mahdism for years.

Mr. Balfour admitted, however, that perhaps, the reinterment of the remains have been conducted in a better manner.

Lord Kitchener, Gen. Lord Roberts of Kandahar, and the Duke of Marlborough were in the gallery of the House of Commons during the debate. Senator Wolcott of Colorado, and Henry White, secretary of the United States embassy, also were among those who listened to the debate.

The House voted Gen. Lord Kitchener a grant of £20,000.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

LONDON, June 5.—Lord Kitchener of Khartoum, Sirdar of the Egyptian forces, arrived here today and called upon A. J. Balfour, First Lord of the Treasury, and the government leader in the House of Commons, with whom he had a long interview.

NEW FINANCIAL MEASURE.

Senator Allison Thinks the Next Congress Will Pass One.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Senator Allison in an interview said today:

"In my judgment the next Congress will pass a new financial measure. The bill agreed upon by the Republican committee of the House will no doubt be laid before us in the nature of a suggestion, and we will consider it as we will do other plans which represent commendable features. Perhaps in the future we will meet with the gentlemen of the House, but nothing definite in that line has been arranged. I do not anticipate any very radical measures. We want to maintain our standard, and at the same time give the country a safe and yet a flexible currency. It is said that we ought to declare for the gold standard, but we are on the gold standard now. The views of the President and the issue of National Bank currency to the par value of the bonds deposited with the United States Treasurer, a decrease in the tax on National Bank circulation, and the payment of gold for greenbacks, when the latter are taken out of the Treasury, are all worthy of enactment into law, and we should be surprised to see them adopted. There may be some new suggestions, as for instance, some legislation regarding our silver currency, which will remove them from the least degree of uncertainty."

A WEYLER AGENT LYNCHED.

Friends of Those He Had Persecuted Dispose of Him.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

HAVANA, June 5.—A dispatch from San Antonio des los Banos says that Joseph La Brega, a notorious agent of Gen. Weyler, who outraged defenseless women and killed children, arrived there yesterday. His appearance was the signal for a gathering of relatives and friends of those whom he had formerly persecuted. The excitement continued throughout the day and last night. About midnight a crowd surrounded the house where he was and began to threaten him. He attempted to escape, and on meeting the demonstrators, emptied his revolver, wounding two persons. The crowd closed in and captured him, and he was lynched in the public square.

Robert Goetz's Will Filed.

NEWPORT (R. I.) June 5.—The will of the late Robert Goetz was filed for probate here today. After making provision for certain bequests for the widow's support during her lifetime, it divides the remainder of the estate between his son, Robert W., and the daughter, Beatrice.

Meiklejohn's Announcement.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Acting Secretary of War Meiklejohn made the following announcement today: "No merchandise can hereafter be brought into the ports of Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines from the United States or foreign countries in any vessel measuring less than thirty tons."

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

Manufacturers Meet and Decide on a General Advance in Price.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, June 5.—Farmers and retail dealers in agricultural implements will have to pay more for their plows, harrows, seeders and implements of a kindred nature in the future. At a meeting of twenty-five manufacturers of these implements of farm industry held today, a general advance in prices was advocated by those present, and committees were appointed to prepare a schedule for the various kinds of implements. The committee will attempt to make out their price list during the summer months, and will report to a meeting to be called this fall. It is thought a general increase from 15 to 25 per cent. will be the schedule made out and agreed upon.

WILSON WAS AGITATED.

Thought His Daughter Had Been Forced into Marriage.

Charles Wilson, who lives near the Los Angeles Soap Works on East First street, called at the Police Station in an agitated condition last night, and said that his daughter, Lida, had been in a marriage with a young fellow named Wilbur Dales. The police punctured a sensational story, however, by investigating the matter and ascertaining that the girl had been a willing bride, and the marriage straight and legal, even though his daughter's father had not been invited to the wedding.

The bride and groom are Miss Lida Odean Wilson, 18 years old, and Wilbur Oscar Dales, 18 years old. Yesterday Miss Wilson went to visit friends named Augustin, who live on Palmetto street, where she was joined by young Dales. From there the couple went to the residence of the latter's parents at No. 2318 East Ninth street. Young Dales obtained the written consent of his parents to wed Miss Wilson, and he lost no time in getting to the Court-house and securing a marriage license. The ceremony which was performed by a minister performed the ceremony which made them one, and they were happy.

What caused the agitated father of the bride to suspect that his daughter had been forced to marry at the point of a pistol was not learned, but when he accompanied the police last night to the home of his son-in-law's parents and ascertained the facts, he returned home contented. He did not have the opportunity of congratulating the young people, however, as they had left to spend their honeymoon.

STEWART'S CATCH.

Japanese Arrested and May Be Charged With Felony.

Last night, Policeman Stewart arrested and locked up on suspicion a Japanese, who registered under the name of Jim Wong Fook, and a white girl about 15 years old. The girl was not booked on the police blotter, and Policeman Stewart would not in formation concerning the arrest, taking refuge behind the censorship rules of the department.

It was learned, however, that the pair was arrested in room 7 of the Silver Wave lodging-house on East 13th street, and a felony complaint will probably be made against the Japanese today. It is said the girl lives on East Second street.

MR. HENDERSON FOR SPEAKER.

It appears, from eastern dispatches, that Congressman David B. Henderson of Iowa has received enough pledges from his associates in the House of Representatives to insure his election to the Speakership at the next session. If report be true, he will have not less than 102 votes in the Republican caucus, which will insure his election on the first ballot. In addition to the 102 votes which are said to have been positively pledged to Col. Henderson, there are fifty-nine which are classified as likely to be cast for him. These would swell the vote to 161, which would give him the office by a nearly unanimous vote of the Republican members of Congress.

Assuming that the claims made in behalf of Col. Henderson are correct, or approximately so, he is certain to be the successor of Thomas B. Reed as the presiding officer of the House. This change will be a distinct gain to the Republican party. Mr. Reed, though a man of acknowledged ability, has of late years seen fit to place himself in opposition to some of the leading measures advocated by a majority of the Republican party. Especially has he taken pains to oppose the present administration as regards many measures of great importance. He has used the power and the prestige of his official position to defeat administration measures and to gratify personal grudges. For these reasons, and for others, Thomas B. Reed has outlived his usefulness as Speaker of the House, and his retirement from that position will be a distinct benefit to the party which he has served well and ably in the past.

With David B. Henderson in the Speaker's chair, the administration will not find itself confronted by factional opposition, led by the presiding officer of the House. Mr. Henderson is an able parliamentarian, an earnest Republican, and a firm supporter of the administration. It is hardly necessary to say that with a strong Republican majority in the House, the administration is fairly entitled to the support of that body in important measures of party policy. It will have this support, without question, in the next House. With Mr. Henderson as Speaker, the hands of the administration will not be tied for lack of support in the House of its friends, and the management of the nation's affairs will be much more harmonious than it has been under the reign of Czar Reed, during the past three or four years.

We think it would be good judgment and good western and national policy for the California Republican Representatives to go to the support of Gen. Henderson.

The munificent gift to Stanford University which was made the other day by Mrs. Jane L. Stanford, is an act of liberality memorable in the history of this country which is famous for the generosity of endowments made to institutions of learning. The great school at Palo Alto is now equipped with funds for all its needs and its future is assured beyond a peradventure. With two such institutions as the State University at Berkeley, and the one bearing the Stanford name, the place of California in the scheme of education should be second to no other in the world. If these splendid schools are able to turn out men and women in keeping as to nobility of character with the munificence of the endowments bestowed on the places of learning, we ought to see a great advance in the intellectual life of the State, and a marked improvement in private as well as in public morals.

With Col. du Clam accused of forgery, with a good prospect of his being convicted on that charge, and Esterhazy's confession of having written that famous bordereau at hand, the chance for Capt. Dreyfus to get even with his persecutors appears to be considerably more than first class.

IN THE HEART OF CHINA.

In this morning's issue of THE TIMES is concluded the intensely interesting narrative of Mr. W. Kirkpatrick Brice, giving details of his journey through the central portions of China, as a member of the surveying expedition for the Yuen-Han railway, which is to be constructed from Hankow to Canton, and which will open the interior of China to the commerce and civilization of the Western World. Mr. Brice is a son of the late Senator Brice, and was a lieutenant in the First Division of the Eighth Army Corps at Cavite. His description of the journey from Hankow to Canton is of absorbing interest, not only for the reason that the greater part of the territory traversed is almost a terra incognita, but because of the fact that it is soon to be invaded by the enterprise and the appliances of modern civilization.

The building of the proposed railroad from Hankow to Canton is a daring undertaking. The engineering difficulties, though by no means insurmountable, will probably be found less formidable than the prejudices of the people inhabiting the region to be traversed. These inhabitants of the interior of China are not favorably disposed toward foreigners and foreign innovations. Though the members of the surveying party were well protected by a detail of native soldiers, (so-called,) this protection did not afford them immunity from hostile demonstrations—a fact which serves to show the density of the ignorance and prejudice which exist in "Darkest China." But there can be no doubt that American enterprise will in the end overcome all obstacles, and will carry the undertaking to a triumphant conclusion.

The immense importance of the proposed railway from Hankow to Canton can hardly be exaggerated. It will traverse some of the most important provinces of the Chinese Empire, and will in fact throw open the interior of that almost unknown country to the aggressive civilization of the Western World. The road will connect at Hankow with the Belgian line running to Peking, which will there join the Russian line which is to have its terminus at that city. The effect of this road upon American commerce will be of incalculable importance. Our increasing trade with the Orient will receive an immense impetus; and the Pacific Coast, by reason of its geographical situation, ought to receive a very large proportion of this commercial benefit.

It may be that, before long, Southern California will become an iron-producing section. Iron ore is rapidly growing scarce, and some of the manufacturers are beginning to express alarm at the prospects for the future, the consumption of iron being now much greater than was ever before known. This is largely due to the extensive use of iron in buildings. It is believed that the price of iron will continue to advance for some time yet, and this will stimulate the development of new fields. In this section, there are large and valuable deposits of iron ore, especially in San Bernardino and Fresno counties, which has not yet been possible to develop profitably, under present conditions, but with a considerable increase in price, and with the cooperation of the railroads, it is not unreasonable to suppose that before many years we may see some big iron mines actively operated in the Southwest.

Mr. Huntington is said to be threatening to parallel the Union Pacific. As the Vanderbilts have a few dollars at their disposal, should Mr. Huntington commence that sort of a game it is not likely to be one of solitaire for any great length of time. A game of railroad building between the Huntington and Vanderbilt interests would be a battle of giants, and one result of the contest would, in all likelihood, be the disenfranchisement of California. Such being the case, the people of this State will look forward to the opening of hostilities with more than ordinary interest and with pleasurable anticipations.

Carl Browne, the "artist" who wears moccasins and paints landscapes that may be turned wrongside to and upside down and be equally effective as works of art, is mustering his nomadic army for another advance upon the national capital. There is little doubt that even if the "keep off the grass" signs are not in place, "Gen." Browne will not muss up the lawns with his person to any great extent. He and Coxey had a lesson in blue-grass etiquette the last time they swooped down on Washington which will last them for the remainder of their natural lives.

The question as to whether the city shall erect a distributing system for electric lighting purposes has heretofore been discussed in these columns. The advantages of municipal ownership of such a system are obvious, and THE TIMES would suggest that the City Council, in considering the matter today, should look with favor upon the proposition. A simple statement of the case furnishes its own argument in favor of the plan.

The sprinkling of streets with sea water has been found to answer well in San Francisco and other cities where it has been tried. It is claimed that sea water not only keeps the streets moist for a long period, but is also valuable as a disinfectant. As water is a valuable commodity here, it might be profitable to pump sea water from the ocean, for use not only in street sprinkling, but also in a bath-house, which would certainly be well patronized.

The world has seldom seen a more brilliant example of the triumph of justice than is about to be afforded in France through the probable restoration of Capt. Dreyfus to liberty, and the prospective punishment of the vile miscreants—forgers, slanderers and assassins of character—who plotted that officer's ruin. "The mills of the gods grind slow, but they grind exceeding fine."

Commenting upon the profitable business in hauling oranges done by the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe railroads, the Chicago Tribune says that "in the one item of oranges alone the freight earnings amount to thousands of dollars annually. This year they have hauled 13,000 carloads of oranges." If the Tribune had said "millions," instead of thousands of dollars, it would have been right.

If Mrs. Castellane, nee Anna Gould, behaved in Paris, on Sunday, in the way she is said to have done, the little lady ought to be spanked, but the story about her performance sounds so much like an outburst of yellow journalism that it would probably be wise to refrain from visiting her with American displeasure until we get the revised returns from the seat of riot.

New England has a yarn trust, but it has no connection with fish stories. Every man continues to be an independent liar with regard to his catches, the same as heretofore. This remark applies to the whole country, including New Jersey, where Grover Cleveland frequently spits on his bait.

The iron trust is quite likely to cause an advance in the price of crude oil in these parts, because of the rise in oil-well supplies, but unfortunately the iron trust and not the oil producer is to reap the profits created by this advance. All of which gives reason to reiterate the statement that "The trusts must go."

Now that the German-Americans and the Irish-Americans have declared against an Anglo-American alliance, and as the British-Americans are apparently too modest to express an opinion on the subject, it may, perhaps, be permitted to the United States-Americans to have a little something to say.

Our esteemed contemporary, Le Petit Français, is responsible for the statement that President Loubet has announced his intention to resign. This recalls statements that have been made regarding a certain resignation in the War Department at Washington, D. C.

A lady poet of the East takes this flight into the blue ethereal: "O! Dewey we hear thy footsteps Coming home o'er land and sea." The aquatic portion of Cousin George's stepping must come floating in like the sound of a sizzle.

Should New York's Congressional delegation declare for Gen. Henderson the Speakership fight will be settled before there is a battle. Los Angeles Republicans now have a chance to put themselves on record by getting behind the advancing Iowan.

Although William Waldorf Astor has a poor opinion of his native country, the amount of respect and admiration he has for revenue raked from this country is as big as a house.

If the assault on President Loubet in Paris on Sunday is a sample, what may we not expect in the way of a ruction when Capt. Dreyfus is once more brought into court?

The contest between Gens. Lawton and Luna will have to give way, in public interest, for a few days, until Sluggers Jeffries and Fitzsimmons have tried conclusions.

It is naturally to be expected that not all the combinations are as easily broken as was the Pacific Coast cracker trust. Crackers are brittle things, anyway.

Edward Atkinson is writing a book on "The Hellishness of War." Should Mr. Atkinson address himself to an autobiography of Hellishness he would make a hit.

The Olympia sails from Hongkong this afternoon. Bon voyage, great admiral!

Advice to French army officers: Do not be a Paty du Clam.

THE SENTRY AT QUASIMAS.

Alert and keen the sentry stands, Between the whitened tents of men That give their trust to him.

The sunlight falls upon his face, And glints across his gun, The hour of watch is coming near, For lo! the night is done.

Silent he looks across the ward, He scans the water washing bar, Where mightily warships be.

ANOTHER CHAPTER OF THE AMERICAN RAILWAY PROJECTORS' DARING RECONNAISSANCE.

Christmas Dinner in Hunan—A Fearful and Wonderful Lot of Chinese Soldiers—Signs of Danger—Coal and Commerce—The Ancient Trade Route Through Central China—Return to Canton—A Tramp of 750 Miles.

By a Special Correspondent.

NEW YORK, May 28.—Following is the conclusion of the absorbingly interesting narrative of M. W. Kirkpatrick Brice, son of the late Senator Calvin S. Brice, describing his remarkable journey through Central China:

"When we crossed the border into the province of Hunan, the crowds of coolies that surrounded us soon became larger and more troublesome. The people were not yet hostile, but simply crazy with curiosity. They wanted to feel our clothing, look through our finger glasses, and examine all of our effects. At times they almost mobbed us. Christmas day found us at Ping-Shui-Pu, just over the border of Hunan. We ate Christmas dinner walled in by a huge mob of ragged, dirty, jabbering coolies, which we had to placate.

"The soldiers forming our escort gave us a certain amount of importance, but we had to depend upon our tact for real protection. These soldiers, by the way, were one of the oddest and most amusing features of the expedition. They were strongly reminiscent of the army in a comic opera. Their costume was brilliant with orange and green or blue and red, with a white circle of cloth stitched upon the coat in front and another behind. Characters sewed upon this white circle told the regiment the wearer belonged to. Whatever its object, it would make an excellent target for an enemy's bullet, and it is significant that it faces both ways. They were armed with swords, fans and umbrellas, sun and rain being, perhaps, the most customary of their most dreaded foes.

"Some of them had old muskets which may have been service in Europe in some previous incarnation, but which had certainly never been fired by their present owners, since they are not provided with any ammunition. Others carried long two-handed spears, with rusty iron blades, while many made a warlike showing with pikes, three-pronged forks and other archaic weapons. Perhaps the bravest of all were those who depended on frightening the enemy with brilliant-colored banners; their appearance was certainly most bellicose and formidable.

"They had apparently little idea of military discipline, though they were always on hand, and did some good service in keeping back the crowds. When they did in a most amusing way. Some of them carried bamboo sticks, split in such a way that when they were snapped quickly they made a loud cracking noise. When they struck any one, it certainly seemed as though the victim had received a severe blow, but in reality they never hurt any one at all, and never intended to. The oddest part of it is that the people took it all seriously, and acted out their part to perfection by looking hurt and keeping out of the way. It all seemed like a children's game; yet without this absurd mockery of protective power we might have had some serious trouble.

"In the afternoon of December 25, Gen. Parsons pressed ahead and discovered a pass through the mountains down into the valley of the Siang River, which he called Christmas Pass in honor of the day. The Chinese officials called that night and the next day, and we went into the Siang Valley. They told us of clan fights on our intended route, and declared that they could not go farther west for our safety. We went ahead the next day, however, and were not molested.

"A few days later Gen. Parsons, Capt. Rich, Woo and myself left the party and went west to the city of Yo Chou, which is situated at the junction of the Yang-Tse and Siang Rivers. It is a walled city with a population of 200,000 students here, and a telegraphic communication with Hankow, and is to be shortly opened as a treaty port. They were holding the annual examinations there, and the students had come to the city to take part, and on that account we were forbidden to enter the city. Woo was allowed to enter, however, and the rest of us remained on our boats.

"The overflow from the Yang-tse, Siang, Yuan and half a dozen other streams flows into the Siang lake west of Yo Chou. It is over a hundred miles long during the freshets, and only a great mud sink during the winter. Yo Chou promises to be quite a trade center, for it already has good shops, and the tea country in the higher levels back of it makes it important to that industry.

"We went up the Siang River, and a week later rejoined the other members of the expedition at Siang Yin, to which point they had carried the survey.

Here we were hospitably received by the Shen Magistrate and by a Chinese gentleman in the telegraph service. Yu by name, who had been to the Tien-Tsin University, and spoke English very well. We were entertained at a dinner, which was entirely Chinese, and greatly enjoyed the novelty of some of the dishes, as well as the amusement created by our somewhat ludicrous attempts to manipulate our chop-sticks. The menu included, beside some more familiar courses, shark-fins, pigeon eggs, wood fungus, lotus seeds, snail mussels and bamboo shoots. The dinner was well-cooked, and we were rather surprised to find how good it was.

"Our visit to cities continued to attract general attention. The trumpeters with our soldiers would enter first blowing as if their lives depended upon the effort, and every blast brought hordes of Chinese.

"At Tung Kuan we had our first serious trouble. Some of the ill-natured ones in the big crowd began to show their contempt for us by hooting and throwing stones. The officials and soldiers surrounded us and hurried us to our boats, where we were out of harm's way. During the confusion Gen. Parsons was struck by a stone, but was not hurt.

"The Siang is a very large river, with a rather swift current, and is navigable for fairly large steamboats, probably as far as Heng Chou. It has for the most part high banks, and in some places very picturesque cliffs. The country is generally hilly, and the main valley is of varying width. We made anywhere from ten to sixteen miles a day up the Siang, and were not seriously retarded.

"We reached Chang Sha, capital of the province of Hunan, on January 7, and were reluctantly received by the Governor. It seems that his predecessor had been dismissed from office for being progressive, and I guess that he feared that a precedent had been established. He seemed also to think that if he showed any consideration for the people, he would be a great popular demonstration in which he might be unable to carry out his orders to protect us. He finally decided to give us a reception, and the nature of the concession will be understood when it is stated that we were the first foreigners who ever entered his name. He said that his people were not yet ready for a railway, and that they would have to be educated before one could be built.

"Chang Sha is a large and important city, with an estimated population of 600,000, including a city of boats, with regularly streets and blocks, which covers much of the river. There are some fine-looking temples and houses, and the whole city is surrounded by a massive, well-built wall and moat. The city is well situated, and back of it are some hills, which afford beautiful views of the river, and opposite mountains in the Siang. In the days of this Governor's predecessor, the place was very progressive, and an electric-light plant was started. Unfortunately, the administration and policy was changed, and I believe reform is now dangerous avocation. It is, however, a city of great possibilities when once the province is opened up. Even now the business quarter is active, rich and industrious.

"Beyond Chang Sha the country became still more hilly, and its beauty increased with its ruggedness. Opposite Heng Chou, another large city, we encountered the 'Lei River, which flows into the Siang, after draining a large area to the southeast. Here we left the Siang, continuing up the east bank of the Lei.

"We were surprised one night to receive a call from a Chinese Christian missionary, a member of the London Inland mission. Hunan is not an agreeable place for missionaries; there are very few stations in the entire province, and they are compelled to keep pretty quiet. This fellow seemed much encouraged with his mission at Heng Chou, and perhaps we were wrong to doubt his sincerity; we at least hoped we were.

"I am not inclined to be superstitious, but just after leaving Yung-Hsing, a rather remarkable thing took place. We stopped one night in an ancient temple, which offered the only shelter in that immediate neighborhood. On the wall was the picture of a Chinese god that attracted our attention. It was simply a print of little value, and Major announced that he was going to take it when we left. The Chinese were horrified at the idea. They said that it was a picture of the god of the stomach, and that if we stole it we would surely be punished. Major, to satisfy them, put it back in its place. Next day half of the party complained of not feeling well, and three of us were positively sick. Then we discovered that Major had the god tucked away in his inside pocket. The Chinese were triumphant over the swiftness of the vengeance. I don't know that I thought anything of the matter, but Dr. Jolliffe advised Major to throw the dyspeptic deity away, and Jolliffe is a missionary, too.

"Five hundred miles from Hankow we made the Chi Ling Pass, which is in the mountains that divide the provinces of Hunan and Kwang-Tung, and is the ancient trade route of Central China. It is approached by an old stone highway that greatly interested us, and is in the center of a rather wild, mountainous district. Over this highway wound a continuous stream of pack mules and coolies, carrying merchandise.

"We were elated to reach and pass Che Ling, for ever since leaving Hankow it had been a sort of goal to us, and the rest of the journey seemed comparatively easy. Our descent from the mountains was along a branch of the Pei River, and it was in many respects one of the most interesting parts of our trip. The river winds through a series of wild gorges, and the country is simply beautiful. We reached that country during the New Year celebration of the Chinese, and the greatest difficulty securing boats and boatmen, as the meaneast coolie despises work at that time. We agreed to let them celebrate while they worked, and part of the trip was thus made a sort of carnival. Punks were kept burning, fireworks were exploded, and bright-colored papers were thrown in the air. We were not sorry to leave the hermit province of Hunan, and rejoiced to enter Kwang-Tung, where the whole character of the people and country seemed to change. The people of the latter are accustomed to the sight of foreigners, and were less curious about our presence and movements. The buildings are better and the trades people show more activity and are brighter. We also saw more foreign goods offered for sale in the shops and stalls.

"We secured large boats again at Ping Sze, and kept them until we reached Canton, but its looming pagoda and pawnshops looked welcome when we got the first glimpse of them. We had been seventy-seven days on the journey, and we had a splendid opportunity to return to China this fall, and it is the intention of the syndicate to commence and press work on the railway at an early date. The railway will be of immense commercial importance, for it will open up the provinces of Hu Pei, Hunan, and Kwang-Tung, three of the most important in the entire empire. It will connect at Hankow with the Belgian line that is to run to Peking, and as it crosses the great inland waterway, it will have an immense influence in the opening and development of the country. It is part of the great international system that is to give the country transportation.

"China is an old country, that in places seems worn out; it has millions of people, but it has a lack of ignorance and bigotry that must be overcome, but in a trade sense it is in a virgin state, and when opened up will become one of the great nations in the world. I am for the open-door and the preservation of the integrity of China. It is of the highest importance to us, for we have a splendid opportunity to profit by the development of the country. This seems to me to be of special importance to our Western States, for owing to the geographical position, they have a wonderful advantage in tapping the commerce of this marvelous orient empire. We have taken a sort of national pride in the wonderful increase of our trade with China in the past few years, but I feel that this increase, astonishing as it may seem, is but a slight earnest of the tremendous commercial development possible, when railways such as ours have been opened up the interior, and enabled us to realize the wealth of the now sealed provinces within."

CHILDREN ANNOYED HER.

And Mrs. Velasco Chastised One of Her Tormentors.

Mrs. Lucy Velasco was on trial before Justice Morgan yesterday on a charge of having battered a little girl named Joie Lavaluis. The trouble occurred on April 30, and a neighbor, Rosa Gonzales, swore to the complaint, having been requested to do so by the parents of the little girl. In her testimony yesterday she said that Mrs. Velasco once slapped the child twice, and that the latter's father had whipped her afterward.

On Mrs. Velasco's own testimony, Justice Morgan had no alternative but to find the defendant guilty, but owing to the extreme provocation shown, his honor said he would let her off with a light sentence. She was fined $5.

Trouble Over a Gum Tree.

A Dart and Jesse Berry, old men, were arraigned in the Police Court yesterday on a misdemeanor complaint. J. J. Sprinkle of No. 1448 Temple street charges them with unlawfully cutting down a eucalyptus tree on his place. They pleaded not guilty, and will be tried before Justice Austin next Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

THE WEATHER YESTERDAY.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, June 5.—(Reported by George E. Franklin, Local Forecast Office.) At 5 o'clock a.m. the thermometer registered 28.3; at 5 p.m., 29.7. Thermometer for corresponding hours showed 56 deg. and 65 deg. Relative humidity, 5 a.m., 91 per cent.; 5 p.m., 70 per cent. Wind, 5 a.m., south, velocity 3 miles; 5 p.m., west, velocity 1 mile. Maximum temperature, 69 deg.; minimum temperature, 55 deg. Barometer reduced to sea level.

DRY BULB TEMPERATURE.

Los Angeles ..... 56 San Francisco ..... 50
San Diego ..... 55 Portland ..... 44

Weather conditions: The pressure is highest off the Oregon coast. It is low in Nevada and Utah. Cloudy, threatening weather prevails in Southern California. It is clear in Central and Northern California and cloudy from the Oregon line northward. Light rain has fallen from the Columbia River northward and in the Upper Missouri Valley.

Forecast:—Local forecast for Los Angeles and vicinity: Cloudy and unsettled afternoon and tonight with showers; clearing Tuesday; not much change in temperature; southerly wind. SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—Weather conditions and general forecast. The following maximum temperatures were reported from stations in California today:

Eureka ..... 52 San Luis Obispo, 52
Fresno ..... 94 San Diego ..... 64
Los Angeles ..... 68 Independence ..... 56
Red Bluff ..... 86 Sacramento ..... 57

San Francisco data: Maximum temperature, 66 deg.; minimum, 50 deg.; mean, 58 deg.

The pressure has fallen rapidly over the southern half of the Pacific slope and has risen over the northern half. A depression of some depth overlies Eastern California. The temperature has risen over Central California and has fallen decidedly over Northern Nevada and Northern Utah. In the Sacramento and San Joaquin Valleys the temperatures are from 3 to 10 above the normal. The following maximum wind velocities are reported: Eureka, 35 miles, from the northwest; Winnemucca, 28 miles, from the north; Salt Lake City, 42 miles, from the north; Idaho Falls, 52 miles, from the north; Baker City, 26 miles, from the north. A trace of rain is reported at Los Angeles.

Forecast made at San Francisco for thirty hours, ending at midnight, June 6, 1899:

Northern California: Cloudy Tuesday; cooler in the central portion; fresh northerly winds in the interior; high westerly winds on the coast.

Southern California: Cloudy and unsettled weather Tuesday; probably showers in the mountains; fresh southerly winds on the coast.

Arizona: Cloudy and unsettled Tuesday; light showers in the mountains; cold in the north.

San Francisco and vicinity: Cloudy Tuesday; cooler; brisk westerly winds with fog in the morning.

ALL ALONG THE LINE.

The introduction of a regular mail car on which mail can be carried en route over the electric line between this city and Altadena will without doubt greatly improve the service between this city and Pasadena. There has been reason for considerable complaint regarding this service.

It is apparent that the coast resorts will enter into a more lively competition for patronage this season than ever before. Redondo, which has heretofore relied largely on its regular and permanent attractions, has organized an attraction club, engaged a good band, and will provide a course of amusements for the entertainment of guests.

A citizen complains bitterly, in a letter to The Times, because cows are permitted to be "staked out" on vacant lots, only to break loose in the night and destroy neighboring lawns. This nuisance ought to be stopped. Let those who want to live in a city and keep cows go to San Diego or Chicago, where there is plenty of pasture within the city limits.

The Perris New Era announces in large type that "Perris is all right." The statement—the truth of which nobody would have had reason to doubt if it had been made before—is prompted just now by the fact that the big pumping plant of the Subterranean Water Company has been thoroughly tested and found to work with entire satisfaction, lifting ninety miner's inches. With plenty of water and plenty of mineral there seems to be nothing the matter with Perris.

Another shipment of fruit trees badly infested with scale is reported to have been received at the Los Angeles depot from this county. The trees were sent from Pasadena, and bore an inspection card from one of the horticultural inspectors of this county, showing they had been passed by him on May 29. The question now naturally arises, what are Los Angeles county inspectors paid for? The railroad companies which ship the trees seem at present to be getting the only benefit of their services.

MUSIC AND MUSICIANS.

This afternoon at the Los Angeles Theater, the members of the Symphony Orchestra will tender Director Hamilton a benefit performance to assist in covering the deficit on this year's Symphony Orchestra concerts which has developed upon him. The financial state of the organization is much better this season than last, at the same time the receipts have been inadequate to the demands made to keep up the standard started at the beginning of the season. An opportunity is afforded this afternoon to all who desire to assist in showing their appreciation for Director Hamilton and his colleagues, by giving them an audience which shall fill the theater from pit to dome. The program has been carefully selected and is as follows, with Florence Pendleton Scarborough as the soloist: Overture, "Fingal's Cave" (Mendelssohn).

Ballet music from "Faust": Tempo di Valse, Adagio, Allegretto, Moderato Maestoso (Gounod).

Prelude to fifth act of "King Manfred" (Reinecke).

Cavatina from "Romeo and Juliet" (Bellini).

"Peer Gyn" Suite No. 1, Daybreak, Asa's Death, Anitra's Dance, in the Halls of the Mountain Kings (Grieg).

Overture, "Rienzi" (Wagner).

PERSONALS.

It is reported that Sherman Smith will be the next superintendent of the Whittier Reform School.

John H. Singleton of the Yellow Aster mine, came in from Randburg yesterday, and will leave in a day or two on a trip to his old home in Tennessee. S. P. Mahan will superintend work at the mine during his absence.

Mr. Singleton says he has blocked out enough $15 ore to keep the thirty stamps in the mill going for eight years. He says the Kramer fable is dead as if it had been shot with a Gatling gun.

Called on Mrs. McKinley. WASHINGTON, June 5.—Dun d'Arco, the new Spanish Minister, and his wife called upon Mrs. McKinley this afternoon.

The Playhouses

ORPHEUM.

This theater had a monopoly in the amusement catering last night, the Orpheum being the only playhouse open in town, and the audience was therefore not only one that taxed the capacity of the theater, but one, as well, that embraced the first-nighter in all his and her glory. The bill for the week is an especially strong one, one feature alone, the Montrose troupe of acrobats, "being worth the price of admission." It has been generally thought that the limit had been reached in this line of endeavor and achievement, but these performers have evolved a succession of new things in the way of vaulting, tumbling and somersaulting that are marvelous. The juvenile of the troupe, Master John, who turns a double somersault from the stage alighting upon the shoulders of one man who stands upon the shoulders of another, is a feat that is entirely unique. A number of other acrobats, screw somersaults and other athletic ventures, and all are accomplished with such coolness, ease and grace as to stamp the young acrobat as a "master" in more senses than one. Although this is the last feature on the program, it holds the audience with intense interest until its conclusion—a rare event in vaudeville history.

Billy Van, one of the very funniest of minstrel comedians, is once more in evidence with a new line of business which has an idea, a laugh or a roar in every word or infection of it. Mr. Van's monologue is a droll and witty that he can hardly avoid to mar it with his concluding song, that recounts the titles of familiar ballads and popular melodies, a sort of thing that has been done to death. When this performer "joshes" there is fun galore, but when he sings his audience is sadder. He brought a double somersault from the stage alighting upon the shoulders of one man who stands upon the shoulders of another, is a feat that is entirely unique.

The Donovans, James and James B., a new team of Irish comedians, are so clever and bright that they should win their way with any people without introducing a few things that border upon coarseness. Mr. Donovan's manner and brogue are immensely taking, and he tells an old story so well as to raise a laugh—which is the true test of the story-teller. His hotel rules are the breeziest travesty on the familiar schedule that is tacked up on the doors in hotel rooms yet presented, and the specialty generally is excellent.

The great team of horizontal bar performers, Zazel and Vernon, in brilliant feats; Hanley and Jarvis, in 2-40 talking match, and Edna Aug, in her soubrette songs, complete the list, all of which goes to the making of a lively entertainment. The same bill all the week.

TALKED ELECTRICITY.

Banquet of the Engineers and Architects' Association.

At the invitation of the officers of the various electrical companies of the city, the members of the Engineers' and Architects' Association of Southern California a few nights ago visited all the larger power stations in the city, the trip being made in a specially-lighted car furnished by General Manager Wood of the Los Angeles Railway Company. Last night the members of the organization, with those who had been their hosts on the tour of inspection, participated in a banquet at Levy's. The purpose was to give opportunity to a discussion of what had been observed during the tour.

Covers were laid for thirty persons and after the repeat short descriptions and data of the whole electric-lighting and power field were brought out by those who are interested in electricity directly. Short talks of this character were made by H. C. Thaxter, superintendent of the Edison Electric Company; A. C. Balch, vice-president of the San Gabriel Electric Company; James Warren, superintendent of the Los Angeles Electric Company; H. Hawgood, chief engineer of the Kern River Electric Company; F. W. Wood, manager of the Los Angeles Railway Company; and others. The speeches were followed by informal and interesting discussion of the points brought out. Mayor Eaton, president of the association, acted as toastmaster, and besides him there were present: W. G. Kerckhoff, president of the San Gabriel Electric Company; Prof. Cory of the State University; ex-Mayor W. H. Workman; W. S. Larrabee, superintendent of the Los Angeles Electric Company; C. C. Brown, City Engineer of Whittier; Capt. J. J. Meyer, U.S.A.; Kingsbury Sanborn, manager Riverside Water Company; Prof. E. Duryee, chemist Colton Cement Company; Ira J. Francis, City Electrician; W. H. Workman, Jr., assistant superintendent of Edison Electric Company; L. Adams, manager West Los Angeles Water Company; A. B. Benton, A. M. Edelman, Fred W. Wood, H. C. Brandt, A. C. Jones, H. C. Wyman, J. A. Bernal, Gervaise Purcell, H. C. Thaxter, H. Hawgood, J. W. Warren, August Wackerbarth, Lee Burton, Octavius Morgan, G. C. Pillsbury, A. J. McCulloch and Frank Van Vleck.

Smallpox in San Francisco. SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—Two cases of smallpox were discovered here today, the victims being a patient at a private hospital and his nurse. They have been quarantined.

COFFEE FOR MOTHERS.

The Kind that Nourishes and Supplies Food for Mother and Child.

My husband has been unable to drink coffee for several years, so we were very glad to give Postum Food Coffee a trial, and we were not disappointed. By long boiling it would bring out the delicious flavor, we have been highly pleased with it.

It is one of the finest things for nursing mothers that I have ever seen. It keeps up the mother's strength and increases the supply of nourishment for the child if partaken of freely. I drank it between meals instead of water and found it most beneficial.

Our five-year-old boy has been very delicate since birth and has developed slowly. He was white and bloodless. I began to give him Postum freely and you would be surprised at the change. When any person remarks about the great improvement, we never fail to tell them that we attribute his gain in strength and general health to the free use of Postum Food Coffee, and this has led many friends to use it for themselves and children.

I have always cautioned friends to whom I have spoken about Postum, to follow directions in making it, for unless it is boiled fifteen or twenty minutes it is quite tasteless. On the other hand, when properly made it is very delicious. I want to thank you for the benefits we have derived from the use of your Postum Coffee.

THE CITY'S VICTORY.

SUPREME COURT RULING AS VIEWED BY ATTORNEYS.

Witnesses in the Alford Trial Testify That Hunter Had Threatened to Split Alford's Head.

According to the opinion of the counsel for the city in the receivership cases against the Los Angeles City Water Company, the decision of the Supreme Court in those cases was in such terms as to really be of great advantage and importance to the city. While it is true that the receiver was removed by the decision and the company given possession of the plant, the real victory was gained by the city's counsel in that under the decision the company holds the property only until it is paid for, and must then make an accounting to the city for its receipts, the city paying the value of the plant and 7 per cent. interest, and in the end getting the net income of the company.

A strong committee interested in the coming N.E.A. convention made an earnest plea before the City Council yesterday morning for an appropriation of $1000 for the convention fund. The matter was not settled, but was referred to a committee for further investigation.

An ordinance aimed at ticket-scalpers was presented in the Council yesterday morning by the chairman of the Railway Committee, the N.E.A. General Committee here. Its legality was questioned, and it went to the City Attorney for investigation.

The Council proposes to make an exception in the sign ordinance by allowing a street clock to be placed on Spring street. The proposition caused quite a contest yesterday and it is probably he fought out again next Monday.

Persons engaged in the business of house-moving will now have to register, give bond and pay a license. An ordinance requiring this was adopted by the Council yesterday.

Those opposed to the annexation of the University district propose to contest the recent annexation elections on the ground that the Council did not properly canvass the returns and ballots at the proper time. It was found necessary yesterday to count all the ballots. This should have been done a week ago, but the City Attorney thinks the elections will not be vitiated.

Mayor Eaton has addressed official letters of thanks to Col. George H. Mendell and James C. Kays, expressing the appreciation of the city for the fairness of the award recently made in the water-works controversy by the board of arbitration. Only these two members signed the award.

The defense in the Alford murder trial played its trump cards yesterday, and some very startling evidence was introduced on behalf of the man who is on trial for his life, charged with slaying Attorney E. H. Hunter. Several witnesses testified to having heard Hunter threaten to "fix" Alford and split his head with a cane, within a few days prior to his death. A large "crowd" than usual attended the trial yesterday, and when Mrs. Sue White, the star witness for the defense, gave her testimony, it caused a decided sensation. There were numerous wrangles between attorneys, but none of them anything but a friendly nature. The defense expected to cause a decision, and the introduction of rebuttal testimony will doubtless be made tomorrow.

The new Humane Officer brought the managers of the coursing and agricultural Park into court yesterday on charges of cruelty to animals.

AT THE CITY HALL.

VICTORY FROM DEFEAT.

LOSS OF RECEIVERSHIP CASES SAID TO BE AN ADVANTAGE.

Incentive for Prolonging the Water Controversy Removed—The City's Side of It—Much Business Before the City Council—Arbitrators Thanked.

Important as was the decision of the Supreme Court with reference to the Pomeroy and Hooker lands, it now appears that the decision of that court rendered at the same time, in which a rehearing of the cases involving the receivership was denied, is of greater importance to the city owing to the modification which the court made in its opinion. The Pomeroy and Hooker case, as decided involved an expenditure of less than $50,000, while in the other decision the amount involved was $1,000,000. The decision in the receivership case, which was gained by the city by the terms of the decision will in time amount to hundreds of thousands of dollars. The real point for which the city has been fighting has been overlooked by persons not thoroughly familiar with the cases, but it is now asserted that instead of being a great victory for the water company this refusal of a rehearing was made in such terms as to be most favorable to the city.

When a copy of the decision was handed Mayor Eaton yesterday morning he communicated at once with the city's counsel in the cases to ascertain from them the full effect of the decision. Just what information he received he kept to himself insofar as stating exactly what the attorneys had written to him, but he was greatly elated at what he learned. On some of the points the present condition of the controversy prevents publicity being given but the Mayor freely acknowledged that he could talk about with reference to this decision.

"In spite of the assertions of counsel for the water company to the contrary," said the Mayor, "I am informed that that decision in the receivership cases was really a victory for the city in all save the actual possession of the water system, while the litigation is pending. There is one clause in the decision denying a rehearing which is of greatest importance to the city. It is:

"The water company is substantially in the position of a mortgagee in possession, having a lien on the property involved as security for the performance of the covenants of the city, contained in the contract, and we see no reason for the present, or at least, why their lien and possession should be disturbed or a receiver appointed."

That means in effect that the water company is entitled to the amount finally determined on as the value of the property, together with interest thereon at 7 per cent., and that it is entitled to remain in possession and collect the income until the money is paid over, when it will be obliged to account to the city for the income received by it. Upon this accounting it will be allowed reasonable expenses for conducting the business and keeping the plant in repair.

"Assuming that the award of the arbitrators is substantially sustained, the interest coming to the Los Angeles Water Company would be something like, say, $15,000 a year; whereas, its net income is between $300,000 and $350,000 a year.

"This is considered by the city's counsel as a substantial victory for the city, inasmuch as it achieves the chief result aimed at in the suits, namely, that the city is entitled to the net income of the property from the date of the expiration of the contract, less interest on the value fixed; thus removing the chief incentive for prolonging the controversy on the part of the City Water Company, namely, the ultimate enjoyment of this income of three hundred and odd thousand a year."

BUSY COUNCIL SESSION.

Important Measures and Minor Matters Took Up the Time.

The City Council had much to do yesterday, the business conducted not only including a number of important routine work, small staff, petitions, requests, protests and other communications on various subjects, all of which consumed time. Owing to the late arrival of members at the hall, the morning session continued until a few minutes before 12 o'clock. The regular financial reports of the various departments were first considered. There was the report of Auditor A. J. Adams to the condition of funds, the Treasurer's regular report; that of the Tax Collector and City Clerk, as to license collections, and others. As a special report the License Collector reported that during the last year he has collected $1,000,000 in license fees. This report was read and referred to the Finance Committee, as were all the other reports as to finance.

CITY ATTORNEY'S REPORT.

The City Attorney presented an ordinance fixing the official lines of certain streets and lanes in Chinatown and declaring them to be public streets. This is to be followed by ordinances providing for the construction of sewers there, and a general improvement in sanitary conditions. In the ordinance the names of the streets used were listed as they have always been known there, although there had been no previous official designations. The names are Apollonia street, Marchessault street, Gay street, Concha, Benjamin street, Juan street, Cayetano street and Mary lane. Objection was made to these names, or at least to those of them which are suggestive of the character of the places. Mr. Toll contended that it was not proper that the Council should adopt street names by the adoption of an ordinance which would settle the question of names. He agreed that the improvement of the streets was a matter for the Council to decide, but for moral reasons he did not approve of a course which would make a matter of record such names as had been incorporated in the ordinance. Councilman Todd thought that objection was being made to the improvement of the streets, and he expressed his opinion that the ordinance should be adopted. A long discussion he agreed that the names should not be final, and therefore he proposed to designate the streets by name they were referred to as streets heretofore known as the names mentioned. The ordinance was adopted.

The Attorney also presented an ordinance finally accepting as complete the recently resurfaced portion of Broadway between First and Second streets, and the portion of Broadway between Second and Third streets, and hereafter the city will have to pay for all improvements that may be made on that portion of the street. Councilman Pierce is opposed to such expenditures involving the certainty of future heavy expenses to the city. The ordinance was adopted, his being the only dissenting vote.

An ordinance for the opening of Burlington avenue between Twelfth and Pico streets was referred to the Board of Public Works.

In the matter of the suit brought against the city by Jerome Harris to quiet title to certain property, the City Attorney recommended that a disclaimer be filed, as the city has no interest in the property. The recommendation was adopted. The Attorney reported that in his opinion the claim is a just one, and that the proper steps should be taken to ascertain the facts before the Board of Public Works. The Building Superintendent was authorized to sell a quantity of material removed from the city hall and to turn the proceeds into the market fund.

FOR TEACHERS' ENTERTAINMENT.

A committee representing the General Committee in charge of the work of preparing for the entertainment of the visitors during the National Educational Association, appeared before the City Council yesterday morning for the purpose of urging that body to grant the appropriation of $1000, recently requested before the Finance Committee.

The committee consisted of Messrs. Storey, Silent, Howard, Thomas, Davis, Bothe, Rule, Francis, Anderson, Foshay, Pierce and Housh. Judge Storey thanked the Council for the report that the Council had invited the teachers to come to the city, and so did his committee. The Council is now considering the matter, and it is expected that the teachers and their families will visit this city in July will leave at least half a million dollars here in the city, and that this visit has never been a convention held in this city as great as will be this coming meeting of the teachers. He is the speaker. "They are composed of a class of educated, intelligent people who closely observe what they see and hear. They will see and hear here and expect great things of this part of the country, and they will go home and tell their neighbors, friends and relatives what they have seen. They will write for their home newspapers and in every way will advertise this section as it has never been advertised before. They will tell the city that it cannot afford to make this expenditure, that it is 'in a hole' financially. I know that the financial condition of the city is not so good as what we would like to have it, but let me ask whether there is any better way of getting out of that hole than by bringing in new money here, not only during the convention, but as a result of it."

Charles Silent said the committee had been antagonized by something which is certain to be of great public benefit, and they would be false to their trust did they not use every possible effort to make the coming convention a success in proportion to its importance. "We may be able to get along without this money from you," he said, "if you will give it to us, but we need it, and the city itself therefore needs it for this purpose, for we are not working for ourselves, but for the city. It is the intention of the committee to give an entertainment to these visitors which will surpass anything ever before given here."

John P. Francis, Rev. Bert Estes

Howard, Prof. J. A. Foshay and Prof. Pierce also addressed the Council, each referring to the matter of the coming gathering of people here and the beneficial results to the city expected from it. At the conclusion of the speeches President Silver said that the case of the committee had been well pleaded, but for the reason of ascertaining whether there was any demerit in the matter, he would refer the matter to the Finance Committee with the request that action be taken on it at the earliest practicable date.

ANTI-SCALPER ORDINANCE.

C. B. Bothe, chairman of the Committee on Railroads and Excursions of the National Educational Association, addressed the Council in support of the adoption of an ordinance which he presented. He said the railroads had been most generously about rates and time privileges for the association. In the matter of the time allowed on tickets for the holders to remain here as long as possible the only obstacle to what the committee desired was the fear that there would be a wholesale practice by those not teachers of improperly using their tickets. To prevent this an ordinance was proposed, and Mr. Bothe presented it before the Council with the request that it be adopted. He said that much depended upon the addition of the ordinance, as the railroads desired to begin issuing tickets within a few days.

"It shall be unlawful for any person to sell in the city of Los Angeles any railroad ticket at any place other than to sell any steamship ticket at any place, except in the office of the steamship company. Any person violating shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof be punished by a fine of not more than $100, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

This ordinance shall not be construed to apply to the tickets of street railroads operating in the city of Los Angeles.

President Silver said that before the ordinance could be placed upon its passage it would be necessary to refer it to the City Attorney to report as to its legality, and he ordered it so referred. The Attorney being instructed to report as soon as possible.

On recommendation of the Land Committee the lease for reservoir site was about which there has been considerable controversy, was awarded to H. G. Hamilton at an annual rental of $167.50.

SEWAGE CLOCK.

The recommendation of the Board of Public Works that permission be granted to Montgomery Bros. to erect a fine clock on the sidewalk at the corner of Third and Spring streets precipitated a contest which promises to be repeated at the next meeting of the Council. The clock, which would be for the benefit of the entire public. The board thought such a clock would be a convenience and therefore recommended the granting of the petition. When the recommendation was read objection was made because of the proposed clock being established, and the exception to the letter and intent of the law providing a conduit area within the business center of the city. Councilman Todd thought that objection was being made to the improvement of the streets, and he expressed his opinion that the ordinance should be adopted. A long discussion he agreed that the names should not be final, and therefore he proposed to designate the streets by name they were referred to as streets heretofore known as the names mentioned. The ordinance was adopted.

The Attorney also presented an ordinance finally accepting as complete the recently resurfaced portion of Broadway between First and Second streets, and the portion of Broadway between Second and Third streets, and hereafter the city will have to pay for all improvements that may be made on that portion of the street. findings as the official bed of that river. Protests against the proposed widening of Central avenue between Thalia and Eighth streets and against the proposed opening of Grand avenue between Temple and California streets were set for hearing at special orders of business at 2 o'clock next Monday afternoon.

A protest against the proposed ordinance regulating the business of house moving was favorably reported by the Board of Public Works and was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Foshay the City Engineer was directed to prepare an estimate of the cost of the complete repair of the outfall sewer.

A protest against the present condition of West Pico street due to work on the street by the street railway company was referred to the Board of Public Works. The protest was given it immediate attention.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Prospective Legal Battle as to Annexation.

There were no protests against proposed street work to be heard at the afternoon session of the Council. A recommendation was received from the Board of Public Works that the City Clerk be directed to advertise for bids for furnishing the city with 500 tons of baled hay, either in one lot or in lots of 100 tons each. The suggestion was adopted and the advertisement ordered.

A long communication was received from those interested in the production of oil in this city in which it was stated that the city is now about to enter into a contract for street lighting and that it has bids from one company which uses 2000 barrels of oil per month and from two others, whose power is generated by water pressure. The petitioners ask that in considering these bids attention be given to the alleged fact that unless the contract there will be that much less oil sold here. The inference in the petition is, although it is not stated in exact terms, that the matter was referred to the Gas and Light Committee.

MISTAKE IN A CANVASS.

At the last meeting of the Council the returns from the canvass election were returned and the result officially declared. It has since been discovered that the law provides that the Council must canvass not only the returns, but the votes cast, and it was therefore necessary that the work of a week ago be done again. City Attorney Haas was called for, and stated that the mistake was made by the Council. For the purpose of making the record clear the clerk was directed to make the necessary changes in the minutes, but the votes cast were not to be changed. Before anything was done two protests against this action were filed. One was from Lewis Thorne of the city, and the other by G. P. Adams, a resident of the University district. In both of the protests, which are the same as to content, the object was to make an explanation of the discrepancy, and was testified Henry F. Witter, also an attorney at law, for the City Attorney Company, that he had been having a conversation with Alford's being brought to the office, where he bled profusely.

Police Surgeon H. J. Adams, who dressed Alford's wounds at the Receiving Hospital, told of finding a contusion on his left wrist, which had evidently been caused by a blow with a hard instrument. This fact will be used by the defense to demonstrate that Hunter was the first to strike Alford, and that he was the one who was wounded. Dr. Paul Brees, who was present at the autopsy, told the jury that Hunter, related to the jury where the wounds had been found, and reading from notes made in accordance with measurements taken by the physicians at the autopsy, told the distance of the wounds from the floor. He said the wound on the thigh was two feet, two and half inches from the back of the foot on the front of the leg, and an inch higher up on the back of the leg. He said that the bullet had entered an upward course, and as it entered it entered the front of the thigh, and with a piece of chalk traced the course of the bullet, as Attorney Rogers to illustrate the place of entrance and exit of the bullet.

At the close of the direct examination of Dr. Brees it was time for the noon adjournment.

The cross-examination which commenced with the opening of court in the afternoon, was carried on by both Mr. White and Mr. Jones, and when they had finished at least a part of the testimony for the defendant had been given, and the cross-examination it was partially patched up by Mr. Rogers.

E. E. Crandall was called to the stand by the defense as a character witness, and his testimony kept the court guessing. The witness stated that Hunter's general reputation was about "half and half," he sometimes acted as a gentleman, and at other times being very fractious. The witness said that Hunter was free to call other men names and also free to use his name as weapon, adding: "I once had a difficulty with him."

HUNTER'S THREATS.

ATTORNEY SAID HE WOULD SPLIT ALFORD'S HEAD.

Defense in the Murder Trial Examines a Large Number of Witnesses and Introduces Some Startling Testimony—Lawyers Take the Stand in Behalf of Their Client.

The trial of William H. Alford for the murder of Jay E. Hunter was resumed yesterday morning before Judge Smith and a jury in Department One of the Superior Court. One of the attorneys for the defense, Attorney Rogers, for the defendant asked Judge Smith to issue a bench warrant for Attorney Stephenson, who had testified for the prosecution, and who was wanted for further cross-examination by the defense. The clerk was instructed to comply with the request of Mr. Rogers, after which Mr. Rogers was sworn as a witness. Mr. Rogers testified that with Mr. Burks and Mr. Jones, he had been present in the office of Judge Winder, at an interview relative to the case on trial upon which occasion both he and Mr. Burks had taken notes on the remarks of Judge Winder. Mr. Rogers introduced his notes in evidence and read them to the jury, also stating that Judge Winder had told his visitors that Hunter had said: "The first shot did not hit me."

Mr. Burks followed the senior counsel on the stand and testified substantially the same as had Mr. Rogers. He also introduced his notes on the interview in evidence and read them to the jury. Both of the attorneys were subjected to a brief cross-examination by Mr. C. D. West.

P. J. Kennedy, former County Jailor, who lives three doors west of the defendant on West Fourteenth street, was called to the stand by the defense to hearing part of a conversation between Hunter and Mr. McKay, the owner of witness's house, at his home, on the next witness called. He testified that on February 17, Hunter came to the house to see McKay and was admitted by the witness, who was in an adjoining room during their conversation. Toward the latter part of the visit the voices of Hunter and McKay were raised, and the following is what part of the dialogue heard, as given in evidence yesterday:

Hunter. What do you know of my McKay. I have read that advertisement of a judgment against you being for sale. G—d— that son of a b— When I meet him I will break his head. McKay. You had better be careful, he lives only three doors from here. Hunter. I do not care for that. The witness was excused by the defense, and in answer to a question from Mr. White as to whether he was employed to aid the defense, Kennedy said: "I am doing all I can to keep an innocent man from being hung."

Mr. White reprimanded the witness for not answering his question and upon the objection of the defense the reply was stricken out of the record. In answer to further questioning by Mr. White, witness said that Mr. Rogers was paying his expenses while he worked in the case, and that he had been actively engaged in the behalf of the defendant.

Deputy Constable Fred H. Brakesuhler testified that in response to a request of Alford to bring action against Hunter, for the collection of the judgment while the defendant held witness had telephoned to Hunter, and the latter had instructed him to go to the court proceedings. Suit against Hunter was brought and an extension of sixty days was secured by Hunter when he paid interest on the debt. Alford's explanation of the time Brakesuhler again went to the attorney and told him that Alford would attach his mining interests. In response to this question Brakesuhler said he would get even. "I will do him up and fix him."

At the close of the shooting of the deputy constable told Hunter of the garbment against him, and Hunter said he would be damned if he would enter into the judgment, and that his claims were attached he would fix Alford. The witness gave considerable more evidence as to the muscular build of Hunter, and that he had examined Brakesuhler to a considerable extent, but no further evidence of importance was secured.

H. H. Edmister, secretary of the Los Angeles Directory Company, whose office was in rooms 415 and 416 of the station block at the time of the shooting of Hunter, told the jury that he shot, and stated that there was a longer interval between the second and third shots than between the first and second. Immediately after the first witness started toward Hunter's office, but met Alford in the long corridor as he was coming from the smaller hall. Alford was bleeding profusely, the witness said, and held his hands to his face, while blood streamed down between his fingers. Edmister took Alford to his office and told him to wash his head, but when the defendant started toward the basin he tottered and fell to the floor, with the blood still coming from his wounds.

On cross-examination, by Mr. White the witness said that he had arrested Alford when he took him to his office. Mr. White called the attention of the witness to his testimony at the preliminary examination, in which he had stated that the longest interval between any two shots was between the third and fourth, instead of the second and third. The witness made no explanation of the discrepancy, and was testified Henry F. Witter, also an attorney at law, for the City Attorney Company, that he had been having a conversation with Alford's being brought to the office, where he bled profusely.

Police Surgeon H. J. Adams, who dressed Alford's wounds at the Receiving Hospital, told of finding a contusion on his left wrist, which had evidently been caused by a blow with a hard instrument. This fact will be used by the defense to demonstrate that Hunter was the first to strike Alford, and that he was the one who was wounded. At the close of the direct examination of Dr. Brees it was time for the noon adjournment.

Mr. Rogers testified that with Mr. Burks and Mr. Jones, he had been present in the office of Judge Winder, at an interview relative to the case on trial upon which occasion both he and Mr. Burks had taken notes on the remarks of Judge Winder. Mr. Rogers introduced his notes in evidence and read them to the jury, also stating that Judge Winder had told his visitors that Hunter had said: "The first shot did not hit me."

Mr. Burks followed the senior counsel on the stand and testified substantially the same as had Mr. Rogers. He also introduced his notes on the interview in evidence and read them to the jury. Both of the attorneys were subjected to a brief cross-examination by Mr. C. D. West.

P. J. Kennedy, former County Jailor, who lives three doors west of the defendant on West Fourteenth street, was called to the stand by the defense to hearing part of a conversation between Hunter and Mr. McKay, the owner of witness's house, at his home, on the next witness called. He testified that on February 17, Hunter came to the house to see McKay and was admitted by the witness, who was in an adjoining room during their conversation. Toward the latter part of the visit the voices of Hunter and McKay were raised, and the following is what part of the dialogue heard, as given in evidence yesterday:

Hunter. What do you know of my McKay. I have read that advertise-entered an objection to the roundabout way of the questioning. The court seemed to favor Mr. White, and the jury was told that Mr. White wanted to prove that Mrs. White had called on Mr. Hunter a few days prior to his death in regard to her judgment, and that she had been around by the advertisement of a judgment against Mr. Hunter being for sale, said advertisement having been inserted in the local daily paper by Alford. The court instructed Mr. Harris to proceed directly to the question at issue.

Mr. Harris asked a direct question relative to Mrs. White's call, which brought forth the following dialogue: "I went to call Mr. Hunter's attention to the advertisement," said Mr. Harris. "I had offered for sale, thinking that the paper had made a mistake."

"State the conversation between Mr. Hunter and yourself relative to the matter," said Mr. Harris.

"He said, 'No, Mrs. White, it does not refer to your judgment, but to a judgment which I had made against me, and it is a very galling thing,' he says. 'You are the fourth one of my friends that have called my attention to this fact, and I begged his pardon, and said I was extremely sorry, and started away, when he says, 'This judgment was made against me by Alford, but he says, 'Mrs. White, do you see this case?' pointing to his cane. He says, 'I expect that account of Alford's office Saturday, and when he comes here, he says, 'I mean to take my cane and split his head right open.'"

"What did you say to that?" he said, "that is child's talk. Mr. Hunter. That is foolish, and you as a lawyer know that it is not a judgment, but a matter on his head." Mr. Hunter said, "I care nothing about the result, Mrs. White. This thing is galling me to death. I cannot stand it any longer."

"That is all," said Mr. Harris.

"Have you stated all of the conversation?" asked Mr. White.

"I argued that it was the reply. 'Did he tell you how Alford secured the note against him?'"

"He started to, but I excused myself, as I did not wish to hear it," said Mrs. White, and she was excused.

It is the claim of the prosecution that the note originally came into the hands of Alford as a "reducing note," and although two efforts have been made to bring this evidence into the trial, both have failed, one during the examination of the people's witnesses, being overruled on the objection of the defense, and the other failed yesterday, through the last answer of Mrs. White.

Mr. S. E. New, superintendent of nurses at the California Hospital, testified in answer to questions propounded by Mr. Burks, that the evening of Hunter's arrival at the hospital, during a conversation with Dr. Pierce he heard the physician ask the wounded man: "How did he happen to be shot?" "There," he said, pointing to his chest, "you know he was sitting down when he shot me." The prosecution refused to cross-examine the witness.

On cross-examination, in reference to the testimony of the nurse, for one of the main contentions of the defense was that Alford had been fired by Alford, and that he was therefore acting in self-defense.

Mr. Rogers then offered in evidence a part of the deposition of Dr. Pierce, who is not in the city at the present time. Both attorneys for the prosecution objected to the introduction of a part of the deposition of all of it were permitted, and they called to the mind of the court their attempt to introduce it which had been overruled on account of the objection of Mr. Rogers. At this stage of the proceedings Mr. Rogers explained that the deposition of the nurse, which he was objecting to the deposition, saying that his objections were not to the document as a deposition, but were to the nature of the testimony of Mr. Wellborn, to-wit, that no foundation had been laid for the introduction of a dying declaration.

The court was about to speak, but fearing that the ruling would be for the prosecution, Mr. Harris jumped to his feet, and for a moment the witness against him, and his doubt as to the right of an attorney to waive this right.

Mr. Rogers contended

over to him, but could not remember the date of the assignment. He was of the opinion, he said, that the stock did not belong to him and so had notified Mr. Wellburn, executor of Hunter's estate, of its presence in his safe. Mr. Rogers read him two or three questions and answers, alleged to have been the substance of a conversation between the witness and W. S. Mundy in the witness's room last week, the substance of the conversation being a statement on the part of the witness that Alford had not offered resistance when the witness took the revolver away from him in the Stimson Block the day of the shooting because the defendant was "stinking" and too weak to resist. In answer to a question as to the conversation Mr. Stephenson said: "That is all both."

J. T. La Du, formerly an elevator man in the Wilcox building, in which is situated the California Club, of which Mr. Hunter was a member, was called as a character witness. The prosecution, however, objected to the personal opinion of the witness, and the objection was sustained, and the witness excused. C. H. Wynn, an attorney of Handsburg, was called for the same purpose and was also excused without having given any valuable testimony. Frank H. Peters, who was employed in an office in room 515 Stimson Block, at the time of the shooting, testified to hearing the shots, and said that they were at regular intervals, following each other in quick succession. Will Stewart, an elevator boy in the Stimson Block, was called for the same purpose, and testified in the same line, except that he thought the longest intervals between shots came between the third and fourth. F. E. Shown, a merchant tailor, called the jurors of the muscular build of Hunter, and referred to a book in which he had taken notes when he measured the attorney for a suit of clothes.

W. S. Mundy testified that during a conversation with Attorney Stephenson in the witness room last week, the latter had denied that Alford made any resistance to his taking the revolver away, inasmuch as the defendant at that time was too weak to make resistance. On cross-examination, Mr. White brought out the fact that the witness had been personally acquainted with the defendant for several years; had formerly been in business with him, having first met him in Chattanooga, Tenn. In answer to a question, the witness, however, denied that he had started the conversation with Mr. Stephenson at the suggestion of P. J. Kennedy.

By agreement between counsel for the opposing sides, the testimony of Miss Margaret J. McNeil, as given at the preliminary hearing, was read to the jurors, Miss McNeil having departed from Los Angeles several weeks ago. Her testimony was relative to the shots, she having heard them. According to her testimony, the longest interval was between the third and fourth shots. Policeman McGraw, who testified on behalf of the people, was the last witness called yesterday. The officer said that he was at the corner of Third and Spring streets when the shooting occurred, and that he ran up into the Stimson Block immediately and found Alford in the office of the City Directory Company. A towel was around Alford's head at the time, witness said, and that he saw a pool of much blood. When the policeman was excused from the stand it lacked half an hour of time to adjourn, but the witnesses mentioned were not called to court, and on the request of the defense, an adjournment was taken until 10 o'clock today.

COURAGING CRUSADE.
F. D. Black and Henry Peterson Arrested for Couraging a Crusade Against Agricultural Park and President of the local couraging association, was arrested yesterday forenoon by the newly-appointed humane officer on a charge of cruelty to animals. Henry Peterson, the slipper, is also under arrest, charged with the same offense. Both were arraigned before Judge Smith and promptly released on $100 bail each. This action takes the couraging matter before the county courts, which will now have an opportunity to pass on the legitimacy of the sport.

Humane Officer Asa Clark, during his administration, took no action in the matter, holding that in couraging there was no unnecessary cruelty in killing the jacks, and that, inasmuch as they were not domestic animals, there was no cause for action on the part of the society he represented. Humane Officer Craig, however, feels differently.

About two weeks ago, according to a statement by Black, a man by the name of Craig went to Agricultural Park, representing himself to be a sporting man from Santa Barbara, who was investigating matters preparatory to opening a couraging park at that place, unless the expense should prove too great. Craig was shown about the park by Black, who afforded him every opportunity to get a thorough idea of how the business is conducted. He seemed well pleased with the arrangements of the park and so expressed himself, being on the whole, however, rather non-committal. He had heard of the sport. When he left, he informed Black that he would return.

Some time later Craig was sworn in as a special member of the society, and again appeared at the park, but, it is said, was shown the scantest courtesy and was finally ordered out of the grounds. "He had needlessly misrepresented the mission of his first visit," said Black, "and we wanted nothing more to do with him. Had he come and told us his own name, and in the first place, he would have been better treated by us than he was, if such a thing were possible."

Sunday evening Craig swore to a complaint against Peterson, the slipper, before Justice R. W. Davis at Gardens, and placed him under arrest about 10 o'clock yesterday morning, at the park. As soon as Black heard of Peterson's arrest, he telephoned Craig, from the city, to come down and arrest him, as he was the lessee and manager of the park and the responsible party, and that Peterson was only an employee. Black was soon under arrest.

The Couraging Club people are represented by Attorney Jud R. Rush, and the counsel for the Good Government Alliance is Attorney University is Attorney Bowen. Peterson's bondsmen are F. D. Black and George Baker; Black's bondsmen are Baker and Jud R. Rush. Thus has the crusade against couraging taken a new turn.

TO EJECT OCCUPANTS. R. L. Crowder is suing W. J. L. Lanchester for one month's rent alleged to be due for occupancy of premises at No. 420 West Seventh street, and a writ to eject.

OLD SOLDIER INSANE. Robert Welsh, an old soldier, was yesterday committed to the Highland Insane Asylum by Judge Trask. Welsh is about 70 years of age, and claims to be without friends or relatives. He has several times been in hospitals for partial insanity, and in many respects is a physical wreck. On very many occasions he has been violent, but admits the claims of his neighbors that he is threatening in demeanor, and takes an unexplainable delight in wandering about alone at nights.

ANOTHER BANNING DECISION. Judge Trask has rendered another decision in the Banning-Marleau case, which has been in the courts since about 1891. Over eight years ago Mrs. Banning and Dr. J. Hannon owned a ranch in partnership, when Hannon failed, and a constable, W. F. Marleau, attached Hannon's debts, property which Mrs. Banning persists in claiming as her own. The case she has had in the courts for so many years is against Marleau to recover the property attached, which is worth $600. Judge Trask's judgment is again adverse to Mrs. Banning, and she is ordered to pay costs.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY.
Story of the Pious Fund Told by Father Adam.

The Historical Society met at the residence of Bishop Montgomery last night. There was a good attendance of members and visitors. The first paper of the evening was read by Father Adam on "The Pious Fund of California." In 1857 Bishop Alamy and John T. Doyle took measures to recover from the government of Mexico the Pious fund, which President Santa Anna of Mexico appropriated to government use. They succeeded in obtaining a portion of it. The Pious fund was a fund raised for missionary purposes by the contributions of pious men and women in Mexico and California. The conditions exacted of the missionaries by Spain in the conversion of the natives of California were similar to those imposed on the missionaries of Paraguay, and some other countries. The missionaries were to convert the savages and make them fit for citizenship, but they were to do this without cost to the crown.

Father Kins and Salvator in 1857 began the missionary labors in Lower California. Pious men and women made liberal donations to the fund for the support of the missionaries. After Mexico had independence the Pious fund was appropriated to the use for which it had been raised, until 1838, when the missions were all secularized. But the Pious fund was not secularized. The fund, which then amounted to about $200,000. There is no doubt that the Pious fund still owes the Catholic Church of California a very large amount of money. In a suit decided in 1878 the Catholic Church obtained in Mexico the Pious fund, $900,000, but only a small part of it was paid.

J. M. Quinn read a paper on the battle of San Juan. A portion of the paper was extracts from a log-book of the man-of-war Savannah, kept by Lieut. Robert C. Duval, and presented to the society by Philip J. E. Cowles of this city. The battle was fought on the 9th of October, 1846, and resulted in the defeat of the Americans, four being killed and six wounded. Those killed in battle were buried on Dead Man's Island in San Pedro Bay. The Californians placed a piece of artillery, the Americans none. The gun used by the Californians was known as the "old woman's gun." It is now in Washington, and the society passed a resolution asking the donation of the gun to this city. It has a great deal of local history connected with it, having been used in four or five battles in California.

The Very Rev. J. Adam, V.G., one of the early members of the society, being about to leave for his native country, he was elected an honorary member of the society. Father Adam donated a large number of Spanish manuscripts running back into the last century.

Prof. A. E. Douglass of the Flagstaff Observatory, was elected an honorary member of the society. The society adjourned to September.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.
Southern California Fig Prospects.

The Chamber of Commerce has received a letter from Seropian Bros. of Fresno relative to the fig industry in Southern California, which the firm is endeavoring to encourage. The names of all large growers are asked for. The firm states that it is confident that with proper cultivation figs can be grown and cured in such a way as to bring good returns to the grower.

This firm has been engaged in packing and shipping figs for several years, and has demonstrated that the California product can be placed on the market in competition with the best foreign figs, bring more money to the producer, and give better satisfaction to the consumer. The chamber wants the names of growers who are desirous of disposing of their crops.

The chamber is anxious to secure samples of grain in the sheaf for the Exposition. Grain to be used for exhibition purposes should be gathered before it is fully ripe, and the stalks should be long and the heads well filled. The chamber will arrange exhibits in attractive form, and turn them over to the proper officials. Due credit will be given to localities and individuals.

The wheat-growers of Southern California will meet in the assembly room of the chamber this morning at 10

UNIVERSITY NOTES.
Annual Meeting of Trustees—Athena Literary Society Graduation.

The board of trustees of the University of Southern California met in executive session in the college library yesterday morning, with President George W. White in the chair. Sixteen of the twenty-one trustees were present, and the session lasted all day. Plans for an increase in endowment were considered by the board, and much routine business transacted. All the members of the present faculty were re-elected to their positions for the ensuing year. One or two important additions to the teaching force of the school were provided for, but it is not known who will fill the places.

The annual commencement exercises of the Athena Literary Society of the University of Southern California were held in the college chapel last evening before a crowded house. The program was well executed. The evening with Dickens, and the various numbers were well carried out.

Miss Eleanor Seymour presented diplomas in Latin to the three graduates, the Misses Florence M. Tilden, Elvora M. Arbutnot, and Bertha Green.

The students of the oratorical department of the college gave a reception and recital to the faculty and students of the university in the evening.

Kubota the Jap Starts an International Imbroglio.

Yasujira Kubota, the loomed Japanese, who haunted Westlake and persistently annoyed the family of E. G. Judah by demanding permission to search the house for his imaginary sweetheart, has complained to the Japanese Consul that he is maltreated in the State asylum at Agnews, and the Consul demands an investigation.

Kubota is mad as a March hare, crazy as a bedbug, on the subject of his visionary sweetheart. He was yanked out of the Judah residence a dozen times by the police, was sent to the County Hospital, and the insane asylum several times, and as soon as released he resumed his pestiferous attentions to the Judah family. He was sent to Agnews a few weeks ago, and the authorities were preparing to send him back to Japan when his mind slipped another cog, and he broke out in a new place. He tells the Consul he is covered with wounds inflicted by brutal attendants.

I never found any relief till I began using the Ripans, but I have found great relief from them, and can say that I am cured. At times I feel slight symptoms of it when I eat a little too much, but that is my own fault. I always keep the Tabules on hand, and take one whenever I feel indisposed the least bit. I never will hesitate to recommend them to any one in this bad state of health.

The Times cartoons have not only been a notable feature of the paper in the past few years, but have been widely copied in the eastern press. Review of Reviews and European papers. The excellence of these pictorial comments upon current national and local history is such that it has been decided to give permanent form to them, and a Times Cartoon Book has just been issued. It is printed on heavy book paper, is of suitable table size, and is elegantly bound in cloth with a limited cover. To those who desire this beautiful volume as a premium with a year's prepaid subscription to the paper, or it may be separately from the paper for $2 cash.

The official N. E. A. Programme and Guide of Southern California, which will be used by teachers during the convention, will go to press early next week. Advertisers who desire to make announcements that will go into the hands of the visiting teachers should hand in their copy without delay to the manager of The Times-Mirror Printing and Binding House, who has the work in charge. This official programme will be the only literature allowed to circulate in the convention hall.

The wife of C. O. Thomas, who reported a few days ago that he was missing, is not the woman who is searching for him in San Francisco. Thomas has not left home, and the other woman is on a wild-goose chase. Thomas denies that he was short in his returns, as collector for Morris & Jones, but Morris & Jones disagree with him on that point.

FUNDS FOR THE CONVENTION.

N.E.A. Finance Committee Looking Up Money—San Diego.

The Finance Committee of the local N.E.A. committee is looking up funds for the entertainment of visitors to the convention, and, commencing today, an active canvass of Broadway and Spring, Main and Los Angeles streets will be made. It is the purpose of the committee to raise from $15,000 to $20,000, exclusive of the $10,000 which the city teachers are voluntarily contributing, and over $3000 has already been subscribed. With so good a start there will be no difficulty in securing all that will be required to take proper care of the wants of visitors in the way of entertainment. Business men thus far called upon have been liberal.

The Chicago teachers are coming to the convention in style. The Teachers' Federation of the Windy City announced some days ago that it would run a special train for members only, and now the Chicago Teachers' Club makes a similar announcement. Several special trains will be required to bring the teachers from there.

The San Diego programme for fiesta week, July 17 to 22, inclusive, has just been made public, and contains features that will doubtless interest the visitors from the East. During the week there will be excursions into Mexico and to all other points of interest available. Tia Juana will be the objective point in Mexico, and the Baja California and Cocopa Indians domiciled in their rancherias there should make picturesque groups for the kodak fiends. Wax figures of Mexican rurales and vaqueros in their feats of horsemanship, bronco busting, cattle catching, throwing and branding, will be features. Present indications are that the teachers will have more opportunities for sight-seeing than they can take advantage of.

FOR HOT AIR FURNACES.

Go to Brown, the Furnace man, 122 E. 4th.

REMEMBER the needy. Save your cast-off clothing, beds, bedding or stoves, for poor families of the city. THREW A BRICK.
But it Cost the Young Man Ten Dollars Yesterday.

Cyrus Simpson, a colored boy, was convicted of battery in Justice Austin's court yesterday, and was fined $10.

On May 21, Simpson, in company with other boys, went to H. H. Palmer's place at No. 2133 Violet street and wanted the latter boy to come out and play ball. Palmer's son was not at home, and it is alleged that the boys began to annoy the old man's daughter. She called to her father, who ordered the boys to leave the premises. All obeyed except Simpson, and Palmer was compelled to put him off the premises. The young man hurled a brick at Simpson, inflicting a bruise on his head.

Indian's Trial for Murder.
The trial of Jose Guacheno, an Indian charged with murder, is to begin in the United States District Court today. Guacheno is accused of having killed the life of another Indian some months ago, on the Mesa Grande reservation, San Diego county. Many witnesses are on the way to this city from the reservation, traveling on horseback, and a number are already here. The courtroom will present a somewhat picturesque appearance.

An Excellent Combination.
The pleasant method and beneficial effects of the well known remedy, SYRUP OF FIGS, manufactured by the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO., illustrate the value of obtaining the liquid laxative principles of plants known to be medicinally laxative and presenting them in the form most refreshing to the taste and acceptable to the system. It is the one perfect strengthening laxative, cleansing the system effectually, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers gently yet promptly and enabling one to overcome habitual constipation permanently. Its perfect freedom from every objectionable quality and substance, and its acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels, without weakening or irritating them, make it the ideal laxative.

In the process of manufacturing figs are used, as they are pleasant to the taste, but the medicinal qualities of the remedy are obtained from senna and other purgative plants, by a method known to the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. only. In order to get its beneficial effects and to avoid imitations, please remember the full name of the Company printed on the front of every package.

The June Sale of White.

Every white thing is included. Most interest centers around the Undermuslins on the women's floor. A grand exhibit of the finest imported garments and artistic French "copies." The most notable feature about our muslin, cambric and nainsook underwear is the goodness of the making. No trash or questionable garments can obtain an entrance here. Even the cheapest are cut and made with care and precision. We quote a few of the cheaper garments as advertised in Sunday's Times, but the prices range from these up to near $20 a garment.

Corset Covers
Corset covers made of a good grade of muslin, cut with "V" neck and trimmed with choice patterns of embroidery, remarkably good garments for..... 17c
